St. Louis Legislator Contends

Live One."

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 25.—Gov. Hadley today offered the excise commissionership of St. Louis to Congressman Henry R. Caulfield. A few minutes after the appointment was announced Gov. Hadley received a telegram from Congressman Caulfield in Washington, stating that under no circumstances could he accept the appointment.

Congressman Caulfield was not recommended by any politician. He was Gov. Hadley's own choice for the place, and the appointment tendered was for a period of four years beginning April 1.

In declining the appointment Congressman Caulfield thanked Gov. Hadley and said he regretted that his determination to continue the practice of law would prevent him from accepting it.

Within five minutes after the Governor announced the appointment State Senator Charles S. Krone of St. Louis declared that he would not vote for Caulfield's confirmation.

Gov. Hadley had planned to tender Mr. Caulfield the appointment at the inaugural ceremonies in Washington next week, but changed his mind, and notified the Congressman by telegram Thursday that he had been appointed. The Governor expressed regret when informed that Mr. Caulfield would not take the place.

Before hearing from Mr. Caulfield, the Governor had sent the appointment to the Senate for confirmation. "I sent Congressman Caulfield a telegram notifying him of my decision, said the Governor. 'Falling to hear from him I sent him a name to the Senate for confirmation. I believe he is the right man for the place. In selecting him I was not influenced by the recommendation of any politician.'

"He was my personal choice, but before considering him I had practically decided to appoint Frederick W. Lehmann. Unfortunately Mr. Lehmann was rendered ineligible by his appointment to the Freeholders' Board. There was no avowed candidate for the appointment, and everybody mentioned was suggested by somebody else."

The news of the appointment of Caulfield was a huge surprise to the Republican "machine" politicians here. Senator Krone was the first to rebel openly. "I will not vote for it," he said, with deliberate emphasis after the appointment had been read in the Senate.

"Why" the Post-Dispatch correspondent inquired.

"Because I do not consider Mr. Caulfield a live one. That's why."

"What do you mean by a live one?" "Oh, well, a live one is any way—politics, public affairs and so on. I do not consider Mr. Caulfield's appointment a happy selection. I don't know what the others think about it, but I will not vote for his confirmation."

Metzger and Anderson, the other two St. Louis Senators, were supposed to be favorable to Caulfield.

Gov. Hadley refused to reply to Senator Krone's attack on Caulfield. It appears the Governor mentioned Caulfield's name to Krone before announcing the appointment.

"Don't you think Caulfield would make a capable Excise Commissioner?" asked the Governor.

"I don't think anything of the kind," Krone is reported to have replied. "All I can say for Caulfield is that he is traveling on his aviator's wings."

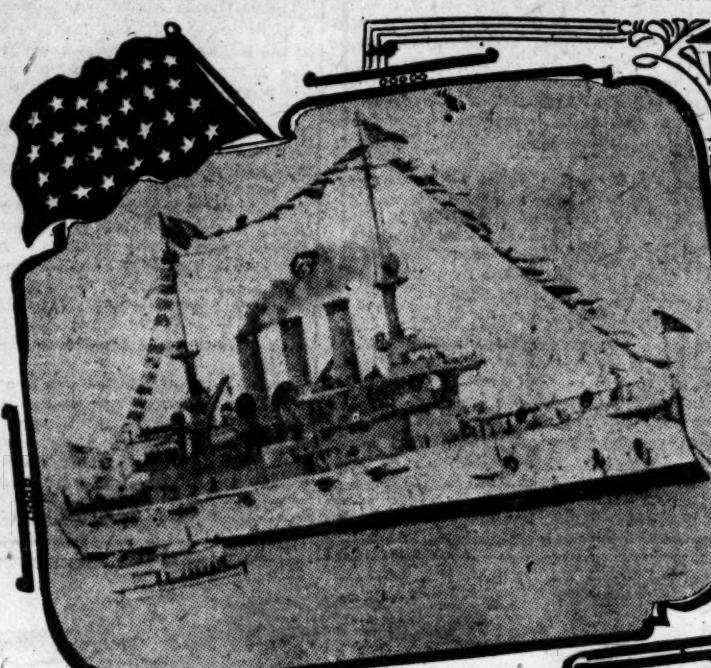

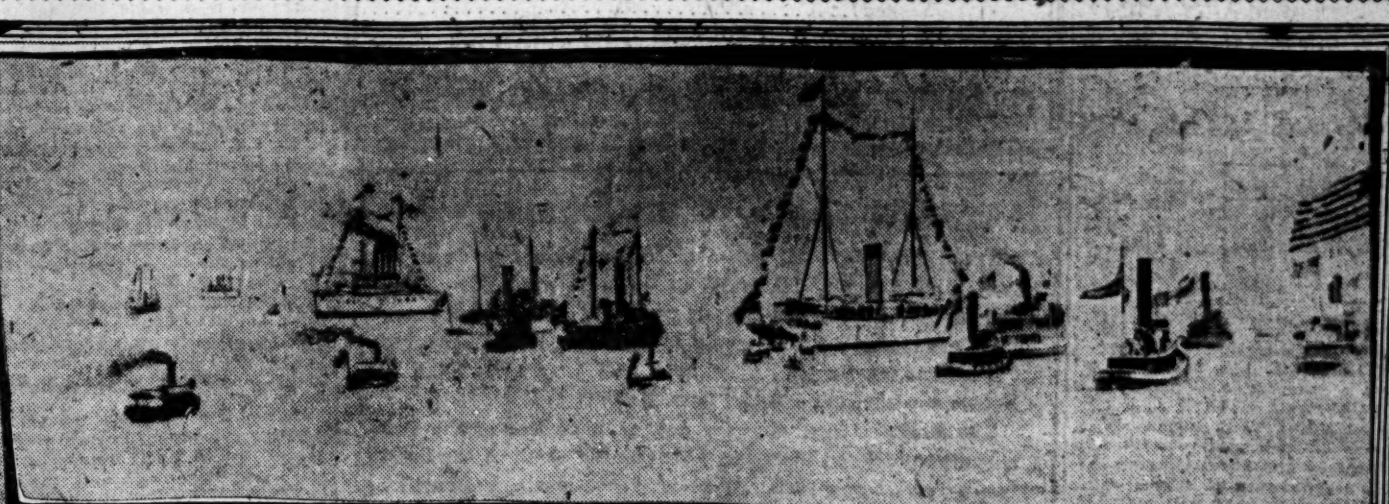

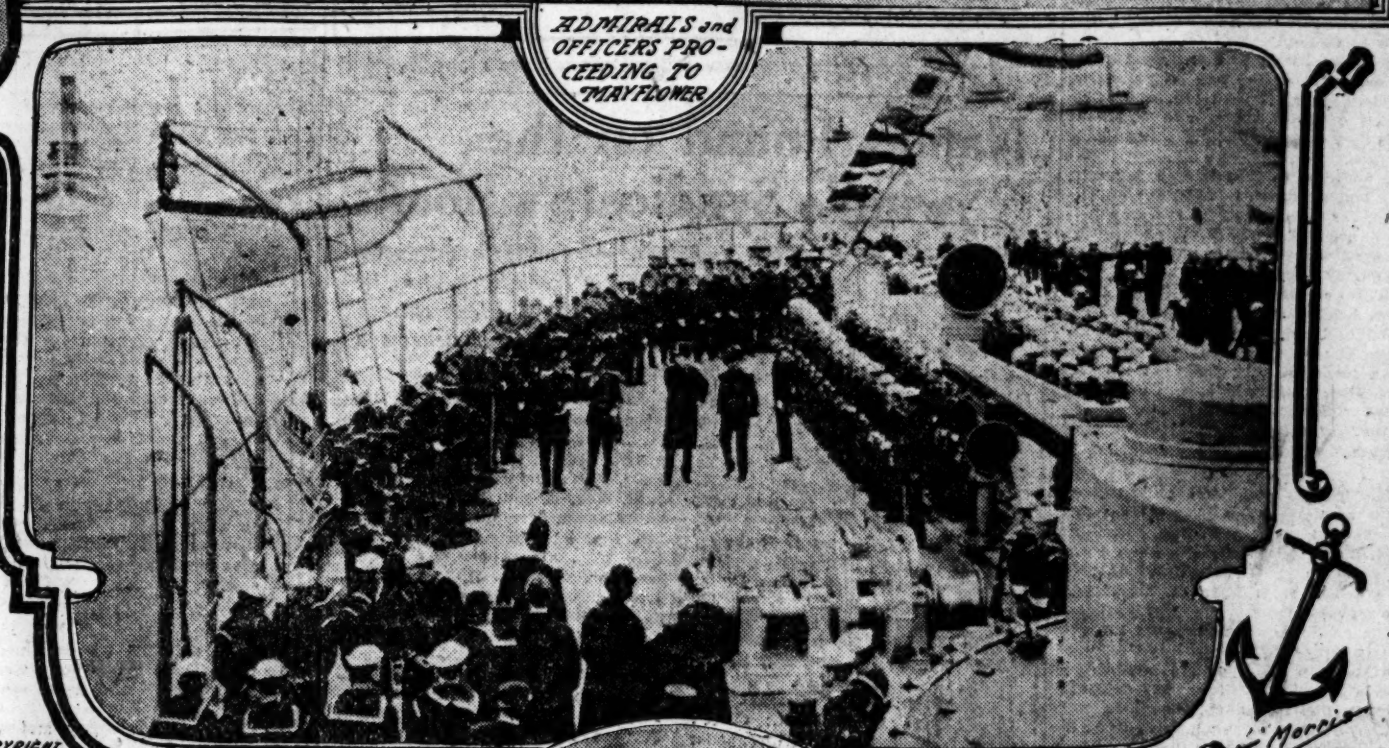

The general comment here on Caulfield's appointment was that it demonstrated Gov. Hadley's determination to ignore the Republican organization in St. Louis so far as his appointments are concerned. It was considered a hard blow to Chairman Jephtha Howe of the Republican City Committee.

Howe's candidate for the excise commissionership was Henry Kiel, treasurer of the City Committee. Originally Howe advocated the appointment of William T. Findley, but Gov. Hadley flatly refused to give him the place.

Otto Stiefel, who called on the Governor recently, did not openly oppose Caulfield's appointment, but his remarks on the excise commissionership left the impression that he did not favor him.

Against Uniplanar.

Frank H. Gerhart and President O'Reilly clasped hands fraternally Thursday morning, after the Board of Public Improvements announced its approval of plans for a double-deck free bridge, with the west approach north of Chouteau avenue.

"The battle is won," exclaimed Gerhart as he heard the Board's decision. And he made for O'Reilly and shook hands fervently. "The line you have chosen is the one of least resistance," he said, referring to the bridge approach, and O'Reilly beamed assent.

The board directed Alfred P. Boller of the firm of Boller & Hodge, engineers of the bridge, to prepare plans for a double-deck bridge, with a wagon approach landing at Seventh street and crossing Broadway with a clearance of 40 feet, and with railroad approaches leading north, south and west.

South Broadway merchants, who have been protesting against having the bridge approach cross their street at all, were not represented at Thursday's meeting of the board.

Bridge 54 Feet Wide.
The bridge is to be 54 feet wide, and its center line will leave the river at a point 235 feet north of Chouteau avenue, and will land on Seventh, 250 feet north of Chouteau avenue and 30 feet north of Papin street.

This location for the approach removes Gerhart's chief objection, which was to running the bridge over the Iron Mountain Railroad property south of Chouteau avenue.

All the land to be condemned for the approach is used in mercantile pursuits, or is vacant entirely. The principal buildings in the way of the approach are now planned are the three-story structures of Hemp & Co., on Third street, near Lombard, and that of Joseph Heikamp, on the peninsula between Fourth street and Broadway, just north of Chouteau.

The clearance over Sixth street will be 20 feet.

The length of the entire approach, from the river to Seventh street, will be 240 feet. There will be stairs leading to Broadway and Fourth street, and possibly a wagon approach to Broadway, landing near the French Market.

The railroad approaches will be north and south to the river front, east of Third street and west to Millcreek valley, crossing Eighth street at Gratiot.

There will be a reverse curve north of Lombard street, of not more than 2 degrees. This is considered only a slight curve. The line crosses Lombard street just east of First, and runs thence, between Lombard street and Chouteau avenue, to Broadway. It runs north of west to a point within 20 feet of Papin street.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The House of Representatives today took the first and a very important step towards putting an end to the payment of money either for salaries or expenses, to members of any commission, council board, or similar jury appointed by the President when not specifically authorized by law so to do.

The prohibition was in the shape of a sweeping amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill offered by Mr. Tawney (Minnesota) and which was adopted under a suspension of the rules. Mr. Tawney was somewhat caustic in his criticism of the practice, which heretofore has prevailed. Recently, he said, a cartload of answers to questions put by the "uplift" commission had been received at the Census Bureau for tabulation. He charged that clerks had been detailed to prepare the report of the commission and said that the report of that commission should never have been printed. All such work, he declared, was without authority of law.

HUMAN GARB
NEWEST THING
IN ANGEL ROBES

Have Astral Coats and Astral
Hats, Astral Collars and Astral Cravats.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 25.—Angels wear clothes—trousers if they're masculine and skirts if they're otherwise. The wings and flowing draperies we see in the picture books are simply "poetic license," because an angel wouldn't look angelic in everyday clothes.

The Progressive Spiritualists of Missouri, in session here, say so. They have seen the angels—"sensed" them is the word they used—and found them all dressed up.

"A lack of education, leads lots of people to believe things that aren't true about the life hereafter," explained the Rev. Thomas Grimshaw of St. Louis to a reporter.

"In all my life I never saw an angel or any other kind of spirit dressed in beautiful draperies such as we see in the pictures. And as for wings—well, they're as probable in the after life as we are here on earth."

Astral Coats and Buttons.
"It would be as embarrassing to go without trousers in the spirit world as it would be to appear without them in the flesh."

"As a matter of fact, angels don't roam about in trousers and white away eternally by playing on a harp. They wear astral clothing—garments like they wore on earth. If as a spirit you wear an astral collar, you'll button it with an astral collar button."

Mr. Grimshaw declared that the popular idea that a medium can get into touch with any spirit whenever the medium wishes to do so is a fallacy. Spirits don't answer to a call. They're called, as a general thing. When a spirit has anything to say it hunts up a medium and says it. If it hasn't anything to say, all the mediums in the world, pulling together, couldn't drag a word out of it.

Other spiritualists attending the convention support Mr. Grimshaw's theory that the angel life isn't a mere matter of wearing wings and playing a harp. Humans who look forward to what one spiritualist calls "flawless bodies of light" in the hereafter will be disappointed. They are in addition to wearing astral clothing and keeping them astrally neat, they probably will have astral collars to do.

SUBSTITUTE FOR RADIUM EFFECTS SIMILAR CURES

Substance Found in Colorado Is Much Cheaper and Physicians Who Have Tested It for Months Say It Is Much Safer.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—Before the Southern Homeopathic Medical Association, Dr. E. H. Bailey of the Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, announced the discovery of "radiator," declared to have all the properties of radium without its baneful effects and to be within the reach of people of moderate means.

It was described as being made from a certain species of pitchblende of which 20 tons have been discovered near a Colorado mine, with much more in sight. Dr. Bailey declared that it generates the purple ray, the same which Pilsen used so successfully in the treatment of lupus.

"We keep them in a safety deposit vault. The new element, far from being inexpensive, will be within the reach of everybody who needs it. Its action is quite as efficacious as that of radium. There is not enough radium in the whole world to treat all the people who need its curative properties."

Used for 14 Months.
"The therapeutic value of our radiator has been established beyond question in the 14 months that we have been using it for the treatment of disease. It never has failed—give relief and in many cases has cured."

"Some of the diseases on which it acts successfully are cancer, tuberculosis of the skin, ulcers, birthmarks and nervous atrophy. Its rays are as effective as those of radium, although it does not act so quickly. Its moderate action keeps it from being harmfully caustic, as radium is likely to be when in the hands of unskilled persons."

"It has the same selective power as radium—that is, it seems to act only on tissues which are diseased, having no effect on healthy tissues. This power, which has been described by Sir Frederick Treves in a recent article, nobody is able to explain."

Pitchblende is an ore that is mined the same as other minerals. Boulder County, in the northeastern portion of Colorado and Montezuma County, in the southwestern portion, have mines producing pitchblende that have been working for several years. The mineral is a yellowish substance that greatly resembles sulphur in appearance when ground up.

BATTLE FLEET
SURRENDERS TO
THE REPAIR MAN

Atlantic Flotilla Prepares to Scatter for a General
Overhauling.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In about a week the magnificent American battleship fleet now at Hampton Roads, will be broken up, each ship going to a navy yard for at least an overhauling. The Illinois, Kentucky and Kearsarge will be sent for much more extensive work than that. They will be generally overhauled and have new boilers placed in them.

Admiral Sperry has been ordered here for consultation with Secretary Newberry and President Roosevelt. He will be here on Saturday. It is probable that the President's navy reorganization board will also be in session here on the same day, and that the Admiral will be asked to advise the members of it, bringing his experience as the only man who has ever commanded a battleship fleet now on the active list, to bear upon the recommendations made by the reorganization commission.

The disbanded fleet will reassemble about the middle of May and go to the West Indies for the spring maneuvers and target practice. The places of the Illinois, Kentucky and Kearsarge will be taken by the Idaho, Mississippi and Montana, the battleships of Admiral Arndt's welcoming squadron, otherwise designated as the third squadron of the Atlantic battleship fleet. The third squadron, as such, will disappear, the three scout cruisers, Salem, Chester and Birmingham, after undergoing their final speed trials, being attached to the fleet.

The battleship Maine will be placed in reserve at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, where she will be overhauled. Her boilers are not in good condition.

TETANUS RESULTS FROM A FALL

Tony Phillips, aged 20, 2424 De Kalb street, is suffering from a severe case of tetanus at the City Hospital. Phillips fell on the sidewalk two weeks ago and hurt his chin. Blood poisoning resulted from the abrasion, the germs apparently being in the dirt which got into the wound.

COOPER WANTED
CARMACK TO QUIT
WRITING OR FIGHT

Defendant Testifies That Was
What Message Day Before Tragedy Meant.

IT WAS NOT A BLUFF

He Tells What He Would Do
if He Had Received Word
He Sent Carmack.

ANXIOUS TO TESTIFY

He Protests Against His Lawyer's Objections to Inquiries
by State.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 25.—Col. Duncan B. Cooper, under cross-examination by Assistant Attorney-General Fishback today, gave further testimony that indicated that his message to former Senator Carmack a few days before the shooting for which he, his son and John D. Sharp are on trial, was not a bluff. The message was to the effect that under certain circumstances Nashville would not be large enough for both of them.

When he was asked what he would do if he received a message like the one he sent to Carmack, his attorney objected, but Cooper begged to be permitted to answer. When Judge Hart told him to go ahead, he said:

"If I had received the message I sent Carmack, I would consider that either I had to stop the attacks or prepare myself to meet him."

Cooper's attorneys were alert and they repeatedly objected to Fishback's questions. Cooper protested time and again at these objections, declaring that he was anxious to answer, that he could stand it as long as the prosecutor could and that there was nothing in his conduct or record that he cared to conceal. The crowd this morning was several times as large as any that has heretofore attended the trial. Through surrounded the Courthouse from before dawn and officers had to use force to keep the crowd in order. The unusual attendance was due to a rumor that Gov. Patterson, whose name has been repeatedly used during the trial, would be called as a witness.

Editorial Is Excluded.
Judge Hart refused to admit an editorial from a weekly paper to be introduced. The State wanted to show that a paper alleged to be controlled by Col. Cooper, first printed the charges about Cox and Patterson which were repeated by Carmack and caused Cooper to send the message about the town not being large enough for both of them.

Attorney Fishback continued the cross-examination of Cooper when the trial was resumed. He began a series of questions concerning the debate between Carmack and Patterson during the last gubernatorial campaign in which Cooper says that Carmack made repeated charges against him.

Cooper admitted that he had not heard the charges and had not seen them published in any paper but he said that his friends, "hundreds of them," had told him about Carmack's attacks. He said he could tell the exact words by reference to notes furnished by a stenographer who reported the debate. He said these notes had been obtained since the killing.

"Help a Favorite Word."
Without these notes, Cooper was able only to remember one phrase which was about the "angel with the small of his back" upon his wings.

"Don't you know he never said half" asked Fishback.

"Yes."

"You put it in—you use the word hell often?"

"I certainly do. It's a favorite word of mine and I use it whenever I want to."

Didn't counsel tell you to look this expression up in the stenographer's report of the debate?"

"No sir. I told counsel to have it looked up for me."

Denied He Was Bolder.
Cooper said that he was angered at Carmack's charges that he had killed the ticket. He said he had never voted for a Republican, but did take part in a Democratic factional fight in which there were two "regular" tickets.

Much time was spent in questions about the statement made for the prisoners on the night of the killing and given to the Associated Press. Cooper denied that he had anything to do with the statement, and said that he talked only to his attorney. Objections were made to this line of inquiry on the ground that it was privileged, but the presence of a newspaper man, admitted by Cooper, barred the objections.

The object of the State was to show that if outsiders made a statement covering all points of the tragedy, it indicated a conspiracy to which many were concerned. Cooper denied uttering the words included in the statement.

Interested in Henderson.
Cooper said that since he remained in prison in chancery he had lived on the income from a 500-acre farm and had also been employed as "agent" for the woods.

HOWE CALLS HIS COMMITTEE OF 30 TO HELP HIM OUT

Blame for Slate Is Put on Mysterious Body of "Prominent Citizens."

WILL OFFER SACRIFICE

Thomson, Graves and Anderson Are Not Essential to Plans of the Boss.

Alarmed by popular outcry against his slate, J. P. Howe, the Republican boss, has sent out an emergency call to an invisible committee of 30 "prominent citizens" to aid him in reviving it. Mr. Howe now attempts to shift the blame for the slate on the "prominent citizens" whose identity he is not ready to disclose.

Mr. Howe said Thursday that the only certainty on the slate are Fred H. Kreisman for Mayor, W. R. Hodges for Auditor, B. J. Tausig for Comptroller, and John H. Gundlach for President of the City Council. All other places on the ticket, he declared, are still open.

Despite Howe's statement, he is determined to nominate Ed Koehn for Collector. Howe is afraid to turn Koehn down, but he does not fear the power of Al Thomson, who was slated for Register; Peter Anderson, who was slated for Inspector of Weights and Measures; and Charles R. Graves, who was slated for Treasurer.

Invincible 30 Will Meet.

"I have invited 30 prominent Republicans to meet at my office at 3 p. m. to fill out the ticket," said Mr. Howe. "I cannot give out the names of these gentlemen without their unanimous consent, but Judge Travis thinks they should be made public."

"I have concerned myself only with the House of Delegates nominations. About 75 prominent Republicans have participated in forming the municipal slate and they are responsible. I have not made a single suggestion."

"I have asked the Municipal Voters' League and the German-American Alliance to assist in some of the work I have been doing. They have not done a thing to help me."

"I have been working day and night purely in the interest of the city and the party. I am now on the verge of nervous prostration."

"On April 7, after the entire Republican ticket, with the exception of eight or nine members of the House of Delegates, has been elected by 15,000, I am going to resign from the city committee and retire from politics."

"I am going to devote myself to every particle of political power and devote my attention to writing a city charter."

"I will be the first man since Adam to lay aside his power in the full glory of it—when it is at its very zenith."

Cooper Says Message Was Not a Bluff

Louisville and Nashville railroad. He said his duties were to look after taxes and legislation. He admitted that he resigned a month after giving E. B. Craig an order on the railroad for four months' salary but declared that when he gave the order he had no intention of resigning.

He said that he later drew a salary of $100 a month while in Honduras for a New York syndicate but did not repay Craig out of that salary.

"Did you pay any debts?" asked Fitzhugh.

"I don't know. I have always been a business failure from lack of business capacity."

"What do you do with your income from the farm?"

"I gave $1000 to Old Soldier. 'Use it to live on. Only a few months ago I drew $1000 from this farm and heard that an old Kentucky soldier was in dire need. I took the entire $1000 and gave it to him. They have pictured my dear dead, let's have some of the light ones. I never before told this to any one, even my daughter.'"

"You owed many debts then?"

"I did."

"And you gave the money away that belonged to them?"

"I presume so."

"So you were generous before you were just?"

"If you choose to put it that way. There are higher obligations between man and man than merely pecuniary ones."

Much of the time of the cross-examination was devoted to an inquiry into the official record of Col. Cooper when he was Master in Chancery, the State Insulating that he was a defaulter to the amount of $100,000. Cooper admitted the shortage and admitted that the record showed that the sum was paid by his bondsmen, but he declared that there was no dishonesty, and that the trouble was due to poor bookkeeping and poor business ability.

SWINDLERS KEPT BOOKS AND RECORD OF ALL VICTIMS

Name of Princeton (Mo.) Banker Found After Arrest in Little Rock.

POSED AS RICH MEN

"Fixed" Footrace, Wrestling Match or Prizefight Used to Defraud.

Special to The Post-Dispatch. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 25.—J. M. Ballew, a Princeton, Mo., banker, who swindled out of $30,000 on a fake horse race, and T. C. Cavanaugh, a New Orleans lumberman, who lost $27,000 on a fake wrestling match, are aiding the postal authorities in prosecuting the leaders of an alleged swindle syndicate under arrest here for using the mails to defraud.

The authorities also plan to get other witnesses out of the lists of names of victims kept by the accused men. Their system of bookkeeping was elaborate as if they were conducting a legitimate business.

In addition to ledgers and journals, they had an envelope file with an envelope for each victim. In this was kept his name, address and an account of the particular scheme or game by which his money was obtained.

All these records were found in a trunk belonging to J. C. Maybray, believed to be the leader of the swindle. These papers show that the swindle quick men had their jokes on the victims. Every man who lost to them was called "Mike."

In the books appear "Mike" of St. Louis, "Mike" of New Orleans, and "Mike" of Chicago.

Employed 300 Men.

The leaders also kept a record of their employees. The postal inspectors believe the gang employed about 300 men. They were recorded in the books by numbers and such minutes as "No. 45" got $500 from Mike of Cleveland, a frequent.

The employees were scattered all over the country as "steers" and reported to the main office of the band which was luxuriously fitted with rooms in one city now in another.

These offices were supposed to be the business places of rich lumber or land or mine promoters. Prospective victims were also first approached by the "steers" with offers of opportunities to invest in rich business schemes.

The victim's business sense was thus appealed to and after he became convinced of the excellence of the opportunity offered he was induced to visit the main offices of the company. There he was entertained and in the course of the entertainment a "secretary" to one of the firm members "tipped off" the "good thing" in the way of a horse race or wrestling bout that he knew about.

The guest was invited to come in and make a winning. The "secretary" offered to place his money. The race always went the other way and the guest lost.

Agents Worked on Commission.

The paid field agents known technically as "steers" were not on salary, but received 50 per cent of the proceeds after their "clients" were turned over to the chief operators. The lowly foot racers, wrestlers, prizefighters and the like, who did the actual work of separating man from money, were given only 15 per cent.

Postal inspectors and secret service men have trailed a band of fake horse race and wrestling match promoters over the country for months, thwarted their efforts constantly by the unwillingness of victims to expose their gullibility. Not until Cavanaugh, a Louisiana lumber dealer, lost $27,000 on a fake wrestling match and laid his case before the Sheriff did the officers get a clew which enabled them to make arrests.

Two Women With Prisoners.

On Cavanaugh's statement, J. C. Maybray, F. M. Clarke and J. J. Warner were arrested in a Pulaski Heights home Tuesday, charged with using the mails to defraud. George Ryan was caught in Hot Springs, and two women, who said they were the wives of two of the prisoners, are also held.

After these arrests Ballew came here from Princeton, Mo., and said he had lost a large sum on a fake horse race in Council Bluffs, Io.

Ballew has been in the trail of his swindlers for more than a month. The pursuit led him first to New York and there on Feb. 6 he had John Dobbins and his wife arrested for cheating him.

Quick Success for Youth. When Herbert Harrison, 15 years old, was diagnosed on a burglary charge in Judge Fisher's Court Thursday, he demanded an immediate trial. Jurors were brought from the two other criminal courtrooms to make up a panel, and in less than half an hour Harrison was found guilty and sentenced to serve two years in the Reform School at Booneville.

ST. LOUIS A GOOD FIELD FOR BAND OF SWINDLERS

Inspector Swanson struck the trail and began to follow up the evidence he got against the men.

While the alleged gang of swindlers arrested in Little Rock by Postoffice inspectors at no time made their headquarters in St. Louis, it was considered by them a good field for operations, and they had representatives here, according to inspectors who are now at work gathering evidence in St. Louis of the operations of the gang.

These inspectors believe that the Louisianians were fleeced of thousands of dollars by the gang, but the names of men victimized have not been made public. Inspector Swanson, stationed in Council Bluffs, Io., but working under Inspector in Charge W. W. Dickson at St. Louis, believes the gang obtained by swindles more than $1,000,000 in three years. The gang formerly had its headquarters in Council Bluffs.

Among the St. Louisians approached with the swindle were Dr. C. C. Vanderbeck of 207 Park avenue, A. A. Van Cleave, owner of the Grand View Fire Clay Mines, living at 2555 Clifton avenue, and a William Burke, who has not been located by the inspectors.

Dr. Vanderbeck called on Inspector-in-Charge Dickson Thursday and related his experiences with the gang.

"I was approached by a man I thought to be William S. Gibson of Los Angeles, Cal.," said Dr. Vanderbeck. "I had known him several years. By representations that I could make considerable money by a good investment in Council Bluffs, I went there with him."

"When we reached Council Bluffs other parties appeared, and as a side line to the other investment, I was urged to bet money on a fixed wrestling match, as it was described to me."

"I was hardly fool enough to go into it," he said, "and I told them so. After leaving them I went to the local authorities in Council Bluffs and urged that the men be arrested, but the authorities refused to take any action in the matter. I then returned to St. Louis."

Dr. Vanderbeck told Inspector Dickson he was ready to assist the inspectors in any way in bringing the members of the gang to justice, and that he would go to Little Rock to testify against them.

Sought Boxers Assistance.

Embassies of the gang of swindlers came to St. Louis and endeavored to enlist the aid of William Burke, plumber and amateur middleweight boxer of the Missouri Athletic Club.

"The man who approached me was well known as a manager of wrestling and boxing bouts. He proposed that I be what the gang called a 'go-between.' The swindlers explained their game to me. They go into a city or large town and spend money lavishly, pretending to be wealthy mine owners or stockmen. With them they have a secretary, a smooth young man whose duty it is to pick out the sucker."

"This secretary was known to the gang as the 'middleman.' He would find a sport who was interested in boxing and wrestling. He would be wine and dine and the gang would introduce him to a fighter or wrestler who was looking for a match. They would be willing to bet all kinds of money that their man would lick any man whom the sucker could bring forward."

Sometimes a second middleman would scout around and find a 'champion' for the sucker to bet on, but the usual game was to induce the sucker to put his money on the gang's fighter."

"Then a fight or a wrestling match would be arranged. Just before it was pulled off the secretary would go to the sucker and tell him that he had embarked $10,000 of his employer's money and he had to do something desperate to replace the money before the short-notice was discovered."

"He would tell the sucker to pull down his belt on the gang's champion and put them up on the other fellow. He promised to make these bets a sure thing by inducing the club's champion to 'down'."

"When the fight or the wrestling match was pulled off the man who was the sucker bet on would always lose, and the gang would skip town."

"They told me that if I would go in with them they had a scheme to make $100,000, and that they would give me the boxes 15 per cent each. Of course I wouldn't have anything to do with it."

Mr. Van Cleave was not at his office Thursday. He had previously declined to discuss his dealings with the gang. The swindle, as it is described by inspectors, parallels the operations of the famous "Buckfoot Gang," which made its headquarters in Webb City, Mo., several years ago, and in a few years obtained more than $1,000,000.

The gang had agents in many parts of the country, and by inducing men to go to Webb City with large amounts of money, with a view to investment in stock and real estate, then induced them to bet the money on foot races. The races were always supposed to be "fixed" so that the stranger could not lose. He always lost, however, and there were instances of the money being stolen by members of the gang from the man who was holding the stake.

The gang was broken up by inspectors four years ago.

Inspector Swanson was in St. Louis for a short time Thursday on his way to Council Bluffs to gather further evidence to be used in the preliminary hearing of the men March 2.

SUFFRAGETTES OF TITLE ARE SENT TO JAIL

Englishwomen of Highest Social Position Refuse to Give Bond.

MARCHED ON PREMIER

Police Break Up Their Parade and Thirty Are Arraigned in Court.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Suffragettes of title and the highest social position were today sentenced for from one to two months in jail for a demonstration last night, when an army of suffragettes tried to force an interview on Premier Asquith.

Among those sentenced were Lady Constance Lytton, sister of Lord Lytton and daughter of the former viceroy of India; Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, Daisy Solomon, daughter of the ex-premier of South Africa; Miss Stratford Dugdale, daughter of Commander Dugdale and cousin of the Hon. William R. Peel, elected Tuesday to the House of Commons; Catherine Elizabeth Corbett, an aristocratic supporter of the movement, and Miss Lawless.

All were sentenced to one month except Mrs. Lawrence, who has previous convictions against them and was sentenced to two months imprisonment. Lady Lytton warned her friends that if they caused her release by providing security she would repeat her offense.

Thirty suffragettes were arraigned in court as a result of last night's arrests. They refused to give bond for their good behavior in the future and chose instead the prison sentence.

Both sides were well prepared for the attempt on the part of the suffragettes to force themselves on Premier Asquith, who yesterday had declined by letter to receive the delegation.

The women held "parliament" at Caxton Hall, and a number of them started on "danger duty" in a solid phalanx, led by Mrs. Lawrence. The police permitted the suffragettes to proceed simply by couples, accompanied by small parties of spectators. The women were thus not given much chance to create a disturbance, although they were allowed to come close to parliament.

Finally several of the women, including Mrs. Lawrence, the leader, were placed under arrest.

When word of the arrests was brought to Caxton Hall, much excitement ensued and Mrs. Saul Solomon volunteered to lead a second delegation to the house. This, in effect, led to the same end, but added to the exciting street scenes and a much larger number of arrests.

A third attempt was then organized at the hall, but this time the destination of the delegation was Brook's Club, where the premier was dining. Near St. James Palace a large body of police descended upon the procession, which was compelled to break ranks and several more arrests were made. Only two or three of the women reached the door of the club, where they were intercepted by the police and compelled to abandon the enterprise.

"The Witching Hour"

$425 WORTH OF HIGH LIFE LEADS HOPKINS TO CELL

Prisoner, Who Says He's Senator's Nephew, Admits He Sold Hired Rig.

MET TWO CHORUS GIRLS

Wanted to Have a Fast Time, He Says, So He Chartered a Taxicab.

A young man, giving his name as Albert J. Hopkins, is locked up in the Central District holdover charged with selling a horse and buggy which he had hired for a few hours.

Hopkins, who says he is 25 years old, was arrested Wednesday night after a chase of several blocks which began at the teller's cage in the Union Station Bank. He had gone there to cash a check for $75 which had been given him by John Decker, a liveryman, in payment for the horse and buggy which was the property of the Masteron Livery Co. Decker had become suspicious after purchasing the outfit and had telephoned the bank officials to refuse payment on the check.

When overhauled by Policeman John Dunn, Hopkins denied having sold the horse and buggy to Decker. He said his home was in Chicago, and that he was stopping at the Leland Hotel. Later he confessed to Lieut. Hess that he had disposed of the horse and rig to Decker under the pretext that the outfit belonged to his mother. He also stated that his home is on the West Side, in Kansas City, that he is a nephew and godson of the Illinois Senator, and that for the past few days he had been stopping at the Hotel Regent, 100 North Fourteenth street, under the assumed name of C. G. Brightman.

Paid $22 for supper.

He wept in his cell Thursday morning as he told the story of his experiences since coming to St. Louis. "I left home two years ago and obtained a position as stenographer in Chicago," he said. "I lived straight and saved a neat little sum. Last Friday I was seized with a longing for a good time. I drew $425 from the bank and came to St. Louis. Here I met an old acquaintance and two chorus girls. 'Just to show you how I was spending money' let me tell you that I paid $22 for a supper for our party of four at a downtown restaurant Tuesday evening. I had already squandered $400 in fast living. We traveled in a taxicab all the time."

He needed more money. "Wednesday afternoon I found myself with but a few dimes and decided that I would have to have some more money. I telephoned the Masteron Livery Co. at Fourteenth and Main streets to send a horse and buggy to the Moser Hotel. I received the outfit there and drove to Decker's place at 212 Morgan street. I told Decker the outfit belonged to my mother and he believed me. He offered me $75 for it and I accepted. He gave me a check on the Union Station Bank. 'I became suspicious when I saw a patrolman approaching me at the bank and ran.'"

Hopkins declined to give the names of his companions during his escapade. He said he did not wish to draw them into trouble which he himself had brought about. He said that while in Chicago he lived at 1717 Wrightwood avenue.

POSED AS DOCTOR'S BROTHER AND SWINDLED PHYSICIANS

Young Man Seeking Funds to Return to Atlanta, Ga., Was Successful.

Several physicians in downtown office buildings have been swindled out of $2 to $5 the past week by a smooth-tongued young man, who posed as the estranged brother of a prominent physician in Atlanta, Ga. The swindler, who was about 20 years old, told a hardluck story about leaving home to be an actor and about his troupe going to pieces in Alton. All he wanted was enough money to get home on, he said, and he was sure his distinguished brother would repay the favor.

Dr. Adrian Nicholas, in the Frisco Building, donated $5; Dr. Buddecke, in the Century Building, gave $5; Dr. Orr, in the same building, gave $2; and Dr. King, in the Third National Bank Building, contributed $5.

The young man's deception was discovered while he was soliciting a donation from Dr. Orion S. Miller in the Frisco Building, Wednesday afternoon, but before anyone could summon the police he escaped. He was well dressed.

SON ACCUSED OF USING DRUG TO ROBAGED FATHER

Young Kentuckian Arrested in St. Louis Denies Charge.

PARENT IS PENNILESS

Crime Is Alleged to Have Followed Sale of Blue Grass Farm.

J. Lester Roten, aged 23, who was arrested at Union Station Thursday, is wanted in Louisville, Ky., according to press dispatches, for robbing his father, W. S. Roten, of $700. The elder Roten declares he was drugged and robbed in the waiting room of the railroad station. Chief of Police Mager of Louisville telegraphed to the police here to arrest Roten and search his father for money. No money was found in his father's hand, but $714 was found in his pockets. Young Roten admitted the money belonged to his father, but denied robbing him.

"We bought our tickets in Louisville," he said, "but just before the train started father went to a barber shop to get shaved and the train pulled out without him. I had the money and the transportation, and telegraphed to my father to meet me here. I had no intention of stealing his money."

According to the Louisville dispatches the elder Roten sold his farm at Shones, Johnson County, Tenn., and, with his son, was on his way to Missouri to buy a farm.

Whiskey Caused Stupefaction. "I had $700 in my pocket to pay for the land," he said. "My son insisted on my taking a drink from a bottle of whiskey. I swallowed the liquor and remembered nothing else, except that my son boarded an outgoing train."

Roten is 60 years old and told the Louisville police that he had paid $100 to stop a prosecution of his son in Johnson County, Tennessee. The father was left penniless in the railroad station. Detectives Flynn and Howard watched the train from Louisville Thursday, but found no trace of young Roten. Later they arrested him as he arrived on a train from Texas.

HOW SOME OF THE DELEGATES AT THE PLANTERS IMPRESSED THE POST-DISPATCH CARTOONIST

FORGETTING HIS NAME IS A HABIT WITH WELCH NOW

Edison Welch, the Freeport (Ill.) man, sent the City Hospital for a service after he had asked the Car Street police to tell him his name and whereabouts, is suffering from the results of a fall from a railroad train last December, and he has suffered intermittent losses of memory ever since that accident.

This was learned from a dispatch to the Post-Dispatch from Freeport, Thursday, which stated that Welch, while a brakeman in the employ of the Illinois Central Railroad, fell from a moving freight train Dec. 19 last, near Forreston, Ill. He was found unconscious, and when taken to the hospital in Freeport it was found that he had suffered a fracture of the right arm and a contusion on the head.

At the time Welch was conscious, but had completely lost his memory. Physicians set the arm and were preparing to trephine his head for fracture of the skull when Welch suddenly regained his memory, arose from the operating table and re-remembered further treatment.

As Forgotten Often.

The arm healed and he was discharged from the hospital. Since that time his mental condition has been the most remarkable that ever came under the notice of the Freeport doctors. At frequent intervals Welch has lost his memory to such an extent that he has been unable to remember his name, or place of residence, or such states he had wandered to Chicago and other cities. Following these periods, he would suddenly regain his memory and go back home.

Thursday Welch wandered into the Car Street Police Station and asked the Sergeant to tell him his name and whereabouts. The officer thought it a joke, but soon found that Welch was in earnest. A search of the man's pockets revealed letters and cards bearing the name C. Edison Welch. He was sent to the observation ward of the City Hospital and after a time remembered his name, but could tell nothing of how he came to be in St. Louis. He was told his name many times by attendants, and eventually remembered it.

STANDARD OIL SCORES IN $29,240,000 FINE CASE

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—United States District Judge Anderson broadly intimated today that he will rule that the unit of offense in the Standard Oil rebating case will be the 36 settlements of freight charges. Under this ruling, if made, a fine of only $750,000 is possible as compared with Judge Landis' assessment of $240,000 in the original case.

The court said, after listening to the arguments:

"I think that there can be no more convictions than there have been settlements, where the carrier and the shipper have settled their accounts and the shipper has received back the difference between the valid rate and the rate which was a concession. Of these settlements there were 36."

In rendering this informal opinion, the court also disposed of the contention of the defense that the whole matter was a continuing offense, susceptible to but one punishment.

A new panel of 150 veniremen was drawn today.

PASTOR SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR PASSING SPURIOUS MONEY

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 25.—G. N. Massey, aged 50, a minister of Pickton, Tex., was convicted of passing counterfeit money and sentenced to one year and one day in the United States Prison and fined $500 in Federal Court here.

The sentence was suspended on the testimony of physicians, who said the old man's reason is impaired.

Massey says the bills were given to him after he had been given instructions by unknown persons.

INQUIRY INTO GAMBLING AT STATE CAPITAL

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 25.—It is rumored today that a special session of the Cole County grand jury will be called to investigate gambling in this city. Several lawmakers have lost large sums in a poker game at one of the leading hotels. In one instance the loss amounted to $150, or the entire salary of the State Representative to date.

One of the biggest games here is said to be operated by a St. Louis member of the Legislature.

Discussing a report that the gamblers have resumed operations here, Prosecuting Attorney Slate today said:

"I have heard stories to this effect, but I cannot say whether they are true. A gambler had the nerve to call on me a few weeks ago and request that he be permitted to start a game. I warned him if he tried it I would do all I could see he was properly punished."

"Judge Martin is out of the city and I do not know if he is considering a special grand jury to take up the matter."

BUYERS' PROBLEMS DISCUSSED BY POULTRYMEN AT PLANTERS

Dealers Will Lay Aside Business to Take a Flying Sight-Seeing Trip.

The poultry dealers in convention at the Planters Hotel roosted late Thursday morning on account of the dense smoke that hung over St. Louis like a pall, but all managed to be present when the session opened at 10 a. m.

With John L. Van Natta of New York as the speaker, Mr. Van Natta, who is feathering his own nest by robbing the hen's nests, discussed the buyers' problems.

"The Future of Missouri as a Butter State" was the subject of a talk by E. A. Wilkinson of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Wilkinson is not a relative of William J. Bryan, but Lincoln people have formed a habit of visiting Missouri and talking about their greatness.

H. A. Emerson of Chicago spoke on "Branch Houses and Buying Stations" and George F. Hinrichs of New York told all he knew about "Uniform Grading."

"The Receiver at the East" was the topic assigned to Harry Dewie of New York. The poultry dealers will make a tour of the city in the afternoon in sight-seeing cars.

HIT THE SPOT Postum Knocked Out Coffee Ails.

There's a good deal of satisfaction and comfort in hitting upon the right thing to rid one of the varied and constant ailments caused by coffee drinking.

"Ever since I can remember," writes an Ind. woman, "my father has been a lover of his coffee, but the continued use of it so affected his stomach that he could scarcely eat at times."

"Mother had coffee-headache and dizziness, and if I drank coffee for breakfast I would get a headache and usually go to bed with a headache."

"One day father brought home a pkg. of Postum recommended by our grocer. Mother made it according to directions on the box and it just hit the spot. It has a dark seal-brown color, changing to golden brown when cream is added, and a snappy taste similar to mild, high-grade coffee, and we found that its continued use speedily put an end to all our coffee ills."

"That was at least ten years ago and Postum has, from that day to this, been a standing order of father's grocery bill."

"When I married, my husband was a great coffee drinker, altho he admitted that it hurt him. When I mentioned Postum he said he did not like the taste of it. I told him I could make it for him and he was a success; he won't have anything but Postum."

"There's a Reason."

POETICAL NOTE TELLS WHY HE ENDED HIS LIFE

Unidentified Man Tired of Weary Struggle for Necessaries.

Unable to find work in St. Louis a man who has not been identified committed suicide by asphyxiating himself with illuminating gas at the rooming house of Mrs. Missouri Haynes at 1724 Olive street, Thursday. He was without money and apparently spent his last cent for a rubber tube, through which he inhaled the gas. He destroyed all evidence of his identity before inhaling the gas.

One end of the tube was attached to a wall bracket and the other was in his mouth when he was found dead in bed. To make sure that the tube would not slip he had tied it to the head of the bed with the tube in his mouth.

On a washstand he left this note: "I have decided to quit this transitory scene because I am just weary of the struggle for the necessities of life. I beg indulgence of all who will inconvenience be as a result of my act. 'Thou poor he, with Kings he trod; 'Thou great, he humbly knelt to God.' The note was printed with a lead pencil.

Apparently the man was 40 years old. His face was smooth-shaven, his hair light brown, and he was slightly bald. The contents of his suitcase gave no clue to his identity. On his shirt was a laundry mark, which was either Y 159 or N 159. In the lapel of his coat was an Odd Fellow's button.

Mrs. Haynes says he engaged the room ten days ago, paying a week's rent in advance. After his second week's rent fell due Tuesday he avoided the landlady, leaving early in the morning and slipping into the house at night.

Ambulance Surgeon Weiss said he had been dead four hours when he was found after the door of his room had been forced.

BAKED BEANS AND BOXING BOUTS BATTERY A BAIT FOR RECRUITS

In Effort to Increase Roster, Artillerymen Will Entertain Saturday Night.

To show prospective recruits what a good time they will have when they become recruits, the members of Battery A will entertain at their armory, Grand and Rutgers, Saturday night, with a program consisting of boxing bouts, fencing matches, sword contests, revolver shooting, riding exhibitions and baked beans.

Hard drinks and hardtack will be barred. Coffee, soda water and the like will be served with the beans. The mess call will sound at 9 p. m., and anybody with or without a formal invitation can battle with the beans. Afterwards will come the other wrestling matches.

The entertainment is the result of an order from the War Department to increase the roster of Battery A to 135, or more, by March 17. The present roster is 95. The officers would like to recruit up to about 130, and believe they will be able to do it if the public will accept their invitation to call around Saturday night.

What Color Can I Wear?

If you are a perfect blonde you can wear any color, but if you are not—there's the question, and a very grave question, too, and one you will be asking yourself when you begin to plan your Easter dress and hat. Suppose you are a bit sallow and your hair is just turning gray, don't you want to wear the color that will make you look your best? Mary Bannister Willard in the March Women's Home, the latest in the big spring fashion number, takes up one by one the different types of women and tells them just what is their most becoming color, and why. She tells all about the "treacherous blues" and the "kindly browns" and the "malicious whites" and what to wear if you're a Triton blonde or a blue-eyed brunette.

The spring fabrics and trimmings make another interesting page and show a great many pictures of the new materials. Especially smart among these are the satin-striped grenadines and the bedford cords in silk and wool and in the trimmings the lovely bands embroidered in silk with metallic touches or braided with soutache.

And to these features a page of tailored and lingerie waists and a dress-making lesson which gives full directions how to make the popular band-trimmed skirt in the smart walking length.

OFFICERS OF BIG FLEET AROUSE CUSTOMS OFFICIALS' CURIOSITY

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 25.—Claiming that officers of the Atlantic fleet are attempting to smuggle great quantities of dutiable goods collected on cruises around the world, ashore at Old Point Comfort, the inspectors of the Newport News customs district, in which Old Point is located, have taken steps to prevent it.

J. E. B. Stuart, Collector of Customs of the district, and several deputies were on the wharf at Old Point Wednesday, closely scrutinizing every package sent ashore in the launches. Everything of a suspicious character was examined and some packages were not permitted to be taken from the launches.

Two suit cases, after examination on the wharf, were found to contain very valuable Oriental goods, on which there is a high ad valorem duty. They were sent back to the ship from which they came with the information that the property in the cases should not be landed without formal entry in the Customs House. These suit cases were the property of officers.

More than 1000 men are on duty at the wharf, and the customs officers are keeping a close watch on the launches.

REDUCTION OF GARBAGE IS BIG SAVING TO CITY

$85,000 Was Spent in 1908
—New Plant Will Operate for $12,000 Annually.

TEN-YEAR CONTRACT

Provision Is Made That Loading and Unloading Be Sanitary and Odorless.

Chesley Island swine must fatten on something other than city garbage now. Their principal source of food supply was cut off Monday, when the Standard Reduction Co. began its 10-year contract with the city to dispose of garbage.

The reduction plant is located at Bands, St. Louis County, near the St. Charles bridge. It is 700 feet long and built on a site of 11 acres. It is made of steel and concrete and is believed to be so absolutely fireproof that no insurance will be obtained.

The company proposes to diminish the cost of garbage reduction from $1.35 a ton, what it has been costing the city, to 27 cents. Sanitary disposal is guaranteed.

There are two loading stations—one at Chouteau avenue and the other at Midway street. The garbage is hauled in wagons to these points and weighed, after which it is loaded into cars to be conveyed to the reduction plant. It is expected to remove about ten carloads daily.

In the contract with the city it is stipulated that all processes of transportation, loading and unloading be sanitary and odorless. Accordingly, portable tops for the cars have been provided.

An officer of the company told a Post-Dispatch reporter there would be no disagreeable odors emitting from the plant. In the process of reduction the material is pulped, planted, shredded and dried. It is then conveyed automatically through odor-proof ducts and machinery.

Odors Are Destroyed.
The garbage, while in the plant, is at no time exposed to the open air and all odors are drawn by exhaust fans into odor-destroying apparatus, from which the air comes out fumigated. The odor is converted into gases and consumed in superheated furnaces. Liquids are filtered and enter drainage channels as pure water.

It is estimated the city will save $80,000 a year. Disposal of garbage cost the city in 1908 about $85,000. The cost with the new company will not exceed $12,000 yearly. Officers of the company say there will be no profit so far as the contract with the city is concerned. The profit will come out of the product of the garbage, such as greases and fertilizer.

For seven years the city has been hauling the garbage to Chesley Island. This not only cost enormously, but the garbage was not successfully disposed of. Much of the 45,000 tons or more of garbage, collected annually was dropped along the way to the river for transportation on barges to the hog ranch at Chesley Island or fell into the Mississippi.

Island's Future Uncertain.
With the loss of garbage for the hogs the future of Chesley Island, from which so many malarious sepias have blown, is problematical. J. A. Worthington, who owns the hog ranch, may decide to stay on the island and farm or he may move over to Kilmickie, Mo., to which place he transported a number of hogs several months ago, despite the threats of a woman to shoot him and injure proceedings.

Worthington leased the island from Mayor Wells for a cash rental sufficient to pay "taxes, interest on the investment and a small income." He brought the hogs from Denver, where he had conducted a business similar to the Chesley Island venture. At first there were 1000, which number was increased to 2000. Worthington said he got his inspiration to use the waste products of the city from the parable of the loaves and fishes in the Bible. In Denver he and his brothers collected the garbage and paid the city $25 for the privilege.

While the experiment proved costly for St. Louis tax payers it has been profitable to Worthington. He has fattened thousands of hogs on the city garbage and sold them in the market at good prices.

STANDARD OIL KEEPS MARRIED

MEN, LETS 100 BACHELORS GO

Boilermakers With Wives Retained in Service at Wood River Plant.

The Standard Oil refineries at Wood River have a better thing than Senator Kinney's bill to tax bachelors. If a man working at the refinery does not want to be laid off he would better get married.

The latest order by the Standard is one laying off 100 boilermakers, all unmarried. Another 100 boilermakers, all married, held their jobs.

At the offices of the refinery Thursday it was stated this was the policy of the company. "Married men need jobs worse than single men," said an assistant superintendent, "and when we have to lay anybody off, it is the single men who go."

Boilermakers are employed keeping the 100 all tanks in repair. They receive an average of $4 a day.

SYLVIA'S BROTHER SAYS HE DID NOT OBJECT TO HER MARRIAGE

E. H. R. Green Declares He Will Receive Half of His Mother's $50,000,000.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 25.—E. H. R. Green has received his invitation to the marriage of his sister Sylvia to Matthew Astor Wilks. Mr. Green said good-naturedly to the Post-Dispatch correspondent this morning:

"There is no fact in the New York reports that I was slighted or that I opposed the wedding. The fact is my sister's marriage was decided upon suddenly and I did not receive news from home until the wedding had taken place. I have no objections."

"Just to put at rest all such absurd stories as that my sister is to get all mother's estate, I will say that when mother arranged finally her property affairs, Sylvia and I are to receive share and share alike."

Breath Odors Removed by Charcoal

Onions, Tobacco, Decaying Food, Alcohol, Stomach Aches and Impurities Foul the Breath, Charcoal Purifies It.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges Sent Free by Mail.

The stomach and digestive canal of man fills with gases from fermenting and decaying food. Such gases impregnate the breath, filter through the system, spread disease and in large quantities extend the stomach so that it shuts off heart action and death sometimes results.

Pure, simple willow charcoal absorbs at once and stops impure food fermentation. It sweetens the stomach, kills the effect of all odors such as liquor, tobacco, onions, etc., or at least prevents them from causing impurities to arise.

The willow is renowned for its curative properties and ancient legendary lore is filled with its use, by barbarians and civilized men. As early as 500 B. C. the ancient Chaldeans were sagely curing diseases by charcoal, and every monastery of the old world healed the sick and cured the drunkard by using powdered willow charcoal.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are pure willow charcoal, compressed with honey into a delicious lozenge. They contain nothing but sweet willow charcoal and honey. One may eat a box of them and feel only benefit from so doing. Two or three after a meal will be a sufficient guard against bad breath, and the same amount eaten just before bedtime will insure a pure breath upon arising the next morning.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges tone up the blood, the liver and the stomach. They are great laxatives also, but eating large numbers of them does not increase their effect in a painful manner upon the bowels.

They are gentle, powerful and pure and their popularity and the stamp of public approval. Go to your druggist today and buy a box, price 25 cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address: F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NEWSPAPER HELD FOR LIBEL GETS A QUICK PARDON

Gov. Willson of Kentucky Puts Ban on Charges Against Louisville Herald.

DEFENDS THE PRESS

Whacks Officials Who Ignored Night-Riders, but Prosecuted Courageous Paper.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 25.—Gov. Willson today in vigorous language defended the right of the press to criticize public officials who are negligent in the performance of their duties in granting a pardon to the Louisville Herald upon indictment in Calloway and Trigg counties in Western Kentucky for criminal libel against Circuit Judge Thomas P. Cook and Commonwealth's Attorney Denny P. Smith. These officers preside in the most intense night rider district in that section of the State and most of the outrages against the tobacco growers, whippings of farmers and barn burnings occurred, under their jurisdiction.

The Herald boldly condemned the officers for failure to vigorously prosecute, and indictments were brought against it in two counties under the jurisdiction of the court officials.

The Governor says that he grants the pardon "because the long series of crimes in this district which have not been punished under these officers' administration make it necessary for the press to criticize all who can be held responsible."

Defends Press Liberties.

"The freedom of the press, while it must be clear of malice or falsehood, is one of the surest safeguards of the people against wrong and failure to do duty and public officers under whose conduct such crimes go practically free from punishment for a year, ought to expect to be criticized and will be unless the freedom of the press is destroyed."

"In the face of all these crimes of the most vicious and lawless elements, all but one or two have gone unpunished, and the people have been as helpless as if there were no law and no court. And now, after this almost endless series of most shocking crimes, the total net results of the use of these officers of the power of the law and circuit courts ends in these demands for the grand jury to investigate the judge and attorney and in these indictments of the newspaper which had the courage to denounce these wrongs and strive to bring about better conditions in the districts and the State."

"If the courts do not put an end to the rule of crime in the counties in which the judges and commonwealth's attorney are elected to uphold law and order, the only hope of permanent relief from such conditions is in an enlightened public sentiment aroused by the press of the country, and instead of punishing the newspaper, which makes a fight against such conditions it should be regarded as fulfilling its duty."

TWO MEN KILL EACH OTHER IN KENTUCKY DUEL

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 25.—Word was brought here today from the Big Sandy Valley that Frank F. Blevins, conductor on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, fought a duel with W. A. Prewitt and his son John Prewitt, the elder Prewitt being fatally wounded by Blevins and the latter in turn being shot by John Prewitt.

John Prewitt escaped to the mountains. The shooting was the result of an old grudge.

YOUTH CONFESSES HE KILLED AND ROBBED EXPRESS CLERK

"I Don't Know Why I Did It," Declares 19-Year-Old Slayer

at Hutchinson, Kan.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Feb. 25.—Orville Poland, 19 years old, arrested at Medora yesterday, confessed to Special Officer Hale at midnight last night that he had shot and killed Jesse Haymaker, Wells-Fargo express clerk, Tuesday night. The confession came after long questioning.

Poland's statement follows:

"I don't know why I did it. I may have been crazy, but I don't know. We both went to sleep in the office. Later I woke up and he was dead, and I had a pistol in my hand."

"After I saw what I had done, I got his keys and went to the uptown office and robbed the cash drawer. I threw the keys away. I got $7.25. I don't know why I did it."

Poland had wanted to go to Chicago yesterday, but had no money. It is supposed that it was to get the money to make the trip that he killed his friend.

He was admitted to the express office by Haymaker himself. Haymaker was told by Poland that his mother was not at home, and was asked if he would share his bunk with Poland.

'WHY?' IS WAIL OF WOMAN OVER MOLLER'S BODY

"Surely I'm Not Responsible for This," She Says
at Morgue.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—"Surely I am not responsible for this, honey boy. Why did you do it?"

This was the wail of a young, well-dressed woman as she held her hands to the dead face of Lieut. John J. Moller of the Eighth Infantry, U. S. A., who committed suicide Monday night in the Grand Union Hotel.

The woman visited the morgue yesterday and asked permission to see the body. When she saw the dead lieutenant's face she knelt down and ran her fingers through his hair.

Dr. Timothy P. Lehane, coroner's physician, fearing she might lose self-possession, attempted to lead her away. She resisted him, held her hands to the man's face and uttered the foregoing words.

To the physician she said she had been with Lieut. Moller two hours before he committed suicide. She had been summoned to Philadelphia and had learned of the suicide only yesterday morning. She did not tell her name.

The body of Lieut. Moller will be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Washington.

A few army friends of the lieutenant will accompany the body to the cemetery. There will be no funeral.

WIFE DENIES CHOATE'S STORY; KEEPS CHILD

Pearl Ione Choate, Angered by Detectives, Resists Husband's Efforts to Compromise.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 25.—The negotiations tending toward a compromise of the court battle between Fred M. C. Choate and his divorced wife, Pearl Ione Choate, former St. Louisans, for the custody of their minor daughter, were abruptly ended today when Mrs. Choate suddenly announced she would not compromise the case under any circumstances.

She has instructed her lawyers to prepare an answer to the application for the child filed by Choate in the District Court.

"He has charged me with being an improper person to have the care of my daughter and he must prove his allegations," declared Mrs. Choate. "I have decided there is nothing for me to compromise."

Choate is a nephew of Joseph C. Choate of New York, former ambassador to Great Britain. He is well known in St. Louis, where, during the Fair, he was associated with Norris B. Gregg, director of concessions and admissions. Mrs. Choate is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kemphorne of Iowa.

Mrs. Choate obtained a divorce here last August, and was given entire control of the daughter, Mary. Since then, it is said, Choate has been at work preparing to reopen his fight for the child.

He hired detectives and, on the strength of their reports, has filed a suit to contest the Court's award of the child. Mrs. Choate denies his charges and declares her husband "will get his foot in it" if he attempts to press them against her and prove her unfit to have the girl.

Since going to court to get the child Choate, through his lawyer, C. A. Hunt, has begun negotiations for a compromise. The plan is that the child shall be placed in custody of the Court, which shall arrange for her care equally by father and mother.

J. F. Dalley Leftis Bros.' Manager. J. F. Dalley, who was formerly engaged in the credit jewelry business in the Century Building, and previous to that at Sixth and Washington, has accepted the position of manager of the jewelry business of Leftis Brothers and Company, on the second floor of the Carleton Building, Sixth and Olive streets. By reason of being one of the largest buyers of diamonds in America, Leftis Brothers and Company are in a position to sell on credit at cash prices. For this reason, Mr. Dalley feels in his new position he will be enabled to take much better care of his friends and customers than his former charge of the business, and is desirous of opening accounts with every honest person, diamond watch and jewelry on easy weekly or monthly payments as preferred. Every ready to purchase or not. The store will be kept open evenings until 9:30, except Saturdays, when it is kept open until 9:30.

100 Omaha Motocars to Be Tried. OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 25.—Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha announces that he has already given the names of 30 members of Sunday's anti-Greek riot to the County Attorney and that about a hundred in all will be recommended for prosecution.

SAYS HE HEARD FRIEND CALL HIM; FOUND FRIEND WAS DEAD

Vice-President of Life Insurance Company Dazed by Strange Experience.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 25.—William A. Moore, vice-president of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co., and incidentally a man who has always smiled at talk of spiritualism, mysticism, second-sight and kindred subjects, made the following statement:

"At 4 o'clock I was sitting on a couch in my home when I heard a voice call 'Will! Will!' I jumped up and asked who was calling. A voice answered 'Romaine!' There was nobody in the room but myself."

"I went at once to the telephone and called up the home of Richard P. Romaine, my friend, who was president and manager of the Windsor Locks Paper Co. He had been ill. The maid answered my query as to Richard's condition by saying: 'He died two minutes ago.'"

Mr. Moore is somewhat dazed by the experience he says he underwent.

NEW QUARTET AND CHOIR ARE SLATED FOR PILGRIM CHURCH

Present Singers Will Not Be Retained After May 1—New Organist.

A paid quartet, assisted by a chorus, some of whose members will also be paid, will furnish the music in Pilgrim Congregational Church, Union boulevard and Kenilworth avenue, after May 1, next. The present quartet, which is said to be the most highly paid in the city, will not be retained. Its members are Miss Adah Black, Miss Rosalie Wirthlin, James J. and John A. Hagan, G. Rodney Saylor, now organist of Temple Israel, will succeed H. W. Matlack as organist at Pilgrim church. Mr. Saylor said Thursday that he had been instructed to engage a quartet, at lower salaries than those paid the members of the present quartet, and a chorus.

Money Was Well Spent. From Filigree Blaster. I suppose to educate your daughter in music costs a great deal of money. Yes, but she's brought it all back for me.

Indeed! Yes, I'd been trying to buy out my next-door neighbor at half price for years but could never bring him to terms until she came home!

MISERY FROM YOUR STOMACH OR INDIGESTION WILL VANISH.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and Eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad Taste in mouth and Stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from Stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Diapiesin is the only kind that must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one. Triangles after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains powder sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a hearty, healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Bilelessness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach prescription, too, if you ever have Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapiesin. . . .

TOBACCO USERS PAY TRIBUTE TO 10 MILLIONAIRES

Whether They Chew, Smoke or "Dip" Snuff, Same Men
Get Their Money.

82 COMPANIES IN ONE

American Tobacco Company
Practically Furnishes Country With Products of Weed.

By Wire From the Washington
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Whether you chew tobacco, smoke cigars or cigarettes or use snuff, you pay tribute to 10 multi-millionaires who control the tobacco business of the United States, according to the second report of Commissioner of Corporations Smith on the tobacco industry, made public today.

"The 10 largest stockholders, seven of whom are directors, together hold more than 50 per cent, and these 10 alone can, therefore, readily dominate the entire combination," says the report.

"They are J. B. Duke (president of the company), A. N. Brady, O. H. Payne, F. A. B. Widener, Thomas F. Ryan, B. N. Duke, G. B. Schley, the banking and brokerage firm of Moore & Schley (chiefly as agents for clients), and the estate of W. C. Whitney and W. L. Atkins.

"The history of the tobacco combination has made it clear that the American Tobacco Co. has throughout been the principal factor, and this is still more true since the reorganization of 1904, which united the Consolidated, American and Continental companies under the new corporation with the old name, American Tobacco Co.

"There are three other corporations still, however, whose position in the tobacco combination distinguishes them from the great majority of the subsidiary companies. These are the American Snuff Co., the American Cigar Co., and the British-American Tobacco Co.

"The American Cigar Co., with its subsidiary companies, is exclusively concerned with the manufacture of cigars.

"The American Cigar Co., with its subsidiaries, handles the cigar business of the combination, including the manufacture of ordinary cigars, cheroots and stogies in the United States and the manufacture of cigars and cigarettes in Cuba and Porto Rico.

"The British-American Tobacco Co. is distinguished from the others by being confined to export business and to the manufacture and sale of tobacco in foreign countries.

"The American Tobacco Co. holds considerably more than a majority of the capital stock of the American Cigar and British-American companies, and more than 40 per cent of the stock of the American Snuff Co. By reason of the fact that certain large individual stockholders of the American Tobacco Co. are also stockholders in the American Snuff Co., and by reason of the identity of purpose, the American Snuff Co. may properly be considered as controlled by the American Tobacco Co.

"Companies in Combination.

"Aside from these four principal companies, there are 77 other subsidiaries in the combination which do business in the United States, Porto Rico and Cuba, besides a considerable number controlled by the British-American Tobacco Co., which do business in other countries.

"In practically every one of these 82 companies a majority of the stock is held either by one of the four principal companies or by some company subsidiary to them. In a large number of cases the entire stock of these subsidiary companies is thus held. The combination in buying stocks has apparently sought control even more than investment.

"Discussing the plug and twist tobacco trade, the report says:

"Of the output of plug and twist tobacco by the American Tobacco Co. group in 1908, about 104,000,000 pounds were produced in plants directly owned by the parent company, and about 41,000,000 pounds in plants of subsidiary companies. The 104,000,000 pounds were produced in only six plants, and seven-eighths of this amount was made in two of them, the Liggett & Myers-Drummond branch, at St. Louis, and the National Tobacco Works, at Louisville."

SEVENTY-SEVEN HOUR LID DROUTH BEGINS TONIGHT

Primary Election Law Demands City Shall Be Dry Until Monday.

ALLOWS NO TREATING

Neither Can Grocers Deliver, Nor Clubs Serve Intoxicants of Any Sort.

To buy a drink is the least and most ordinary of the things that one may not lawfully do in the two drouthful days of this week-end, which, with the Sunday immediately following, will give St. Louis a continuous lid for 77 hours.

Here are some of the other things which, Ex-Ex-Commissioner Mulvihill says, the law, much more minutely strict for primary election days than for Sundays, forbids:

Giving away a drink.

Delivery of beer by breweries to saloons and groceries.

Delivery of case liquor by grocers to customers.

The law—Section 1, Session Acts of 1907—says:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, to furnish, deliver, give away or otherwise dispose of any intoxicating liquor, in any quantity, to another, or to act as agent or employee for another in furnishing, delivering or giving to any person any intoxicating liquor in any quantity, on any general or primary election day, between 5 a. m. and 7 p. m. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not less than five or more than 20 days."

Another section of the act provides that it shall not be so applied as to interfere with the prescriptions of registered physicians, or with the hospitality of the home. So it is lawful to give a friend a highball or a glass of beer in one's own house.

Mulvihill and Creasy Talk. Enforcement of these regulations against club proprietors, grocers and brewers is a matter for the police, says Ex-Ex-Commissioner Mulvihill. He will look after the saloon end of the matter, and the saloon keeper who opens his doors between 12:30 a. m. Friday and 5 a. m. next Monday will risk summary loss of his license.

"The law will be enforced to the letter," said Chief of Police Creasy Thursday morning. "Every patrolman will be instructed to arrest any person who sells or gives away liquor. Clubs will be subject to the same ruling, and whether members pay cash for drinks, or mark them up on tabs, or merely get them by showing their membership cards, all parties concerned in the dispensing of liquor in any club will be liable to arrest."

"I shall confer with the captains of all the districts on all matters connected with the election, and shall try to make it clearly understood that all forms of traffic in liquor on the two primary election days are unlawful. There will be particular instructions to watch all clubs where liquor is customarily sold."

Chubbins Discusses Law. Henry Miller, vice-president and general manager of the Washington, and chairman of the House Committee of the St. Louis Club, said, when told of Chief Creasy's announcement:

"I have not given this matter especial consideration, but the St. Louis Club will obey the law."

"The Board of Governors will meet tomorrow evening, and this matter probably will be discussed then. Until that time, I can't say what will be done. No special instructions have been given the manager of the club thus far."

Manager Stone of the University Club said he conferred Wednesday with the president of the club, Daniel N. Kirby, about the policy to be followed Friday and Saturday, and that Mr. Kirby promised to inform him Thursday evening of his decision. Manager McCall of the Racquet Club said he had heard nothing about any change in the club's customs.

Can Sell Three Cases of Beer. J. E. Conrad of the J. F. Conrad Grocery Co. said:

"Our salesmen have notified our regular Sunday liquor customers that we will not deliver any liquor Friday or Saturday, and that they must have their orders filled today."

"We have received no special police notification, but the law seems to be plain, and we intend to comply with it, and neither to sell or deliver any liquor in retail quantities between today and next Monday."

"In wholesale quantities, as I understand it, we have the right to sell and deliver liquor. Five gallons is the limit."

Now Is the Time to Swear Off; You Get a 3-Days' Start of the Demon Rum Free

Now is the chance, if you ever had one, To climb on the wagon seat Where it's high And it's dry. And there's nothing to tangle your feet.

The Czar has spoken; his word is law; To climb on the wagon seat. Though your thirst Be the worst, There'll be nothing to quench it by.

Unless you try water; you'll find it good. Though not very filling, at first. But you may— Who can say?— Find it just what you need for your thirst.

disturbing line between retail and wholesale shipments. So we can fill an order for three cases of beer, but not for two cases."

Charles A. Lemp said: "The law does not forbid us to deliver beer to our wholesale customers. There is a clause in the act of May, 1907, stating especially that it does not apply to the wholesale delivery of beer. But I do not think we will have occasion to deliver any beer Friday and Saturday. The law plainly requires the saloons to close then, and we are not going to help anyone to break the law."

JUDGE DYER ORDERS WERNER BROS.' FINANCES INVESTIGATED

Attorney for Creditors Makes Plea for an Examination of Affairs.

John S. Leahy, attorney for the creditors of Werner Bros., Olive street clothiers, Thursday, obtained an order from Judge D. P. Dyer in the United States District Court for an examination into Werner Bros.' financial affairs before Referee in Bankruptcy Walter D. Coles.

Leahy stated to the court that at a recent meeting of the Werner Bros. creditors, Manager Caston, who had been placed in charge of the store by a Baltimore firm, the largest creditor, reported that the assets were about $25,000.

The appraisal made by Receiver Haberman placed the assets at only $27,500, Attorney Leahy informed the court.

WIGGINS INJUNCTION AGAINST CITY UPHOLD BY SUPREME COURT

Prohibits Municipality From Tearing Up Fourth and Arsenal Railway Tracks.

The injunction obtained by the Wiggins Ferry Company against the city of St. Louis to prevent it from tearing up the tracks of the Fourth Street and Arsenal Railway Company, was affirmed by the Supreme Court in Jefferson City Thursday.

The city undertook to tear up the tracks because they have been abandoned. W. K. Kavanaugh, as trustee for the Wiggins Company, applied for an injunction. The case has been in litigation for several years.

The tracks of the railway company extend from Chouteau avenue south on Third street to Dorcas street, east on Dorcas to Second street, north on Second to Chouteau, and west on Chouteau to Fourth street.

The injunction prohibits the city from interfering with the tracks.

SPRINGFIELD (ILL.) LACKS WATER

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 25.—Springfield is in the grip of a water famine. Indications are that it will continue for several days. The local pumping station has broken, and divers from St. Louis are on the scene in an attempt to determine the cause.

Thus far the matter has been a puzzle. The only water that is furnished in the business and manufacturing districts is forced through the mains by two engines, which have been taken to the pumping station, seven miles distant. There is danger of manufacturing plants closing, owing to the scarcity in water.

'I'M NOT WORRIED,' WIFE OF MISSING GROCER ASSERTS

Mrs. J. G. Palmer Says Husband, Gone One Week, Will Return Home.

Mrs. J. G. Palmer of 3708 Laclede avenue, whose husband disappeared from home a week ago, taking with him between $700 and $10,000, told Thursday of the detective work which she has been doing in an effort to trace his movements.

Palmer is the proprietor of a grocery store and meat market at Euclid and Maryland avenues in the most aristocratic residence district of the West End.

"It isn't a very nice thing to say about him," said Mrs. Palmer, "but my husband was intoxicated when he went away."

"He had been drinking kuemmel for several days and was not himself."

"Wednesday last week he went to the office of our son-in-law, Attorney C. G. Halzlip, in the Equitable Building."

"He told Mr. Halzlip he wanted him to look after his business for him and he gave Mr. Halzlip a power of attorney."

"When he was asked for definite instructions as to how his business should be conducted he said: 'I don't care what you do with it. I'm going on a trip.'"

How Mustache Shaved. "From Mr. Halzlip's office he went to the shop of a barber who has been shaving him for years. Every time he was drinking he used to threaten to have his mustache shaved off. I have learned that my husband asked his barber to shave off his mustache. The barber wouldn't do it, but he took my husband to a shop at the Union Station and he had his mustache removed there."

"Then his barber friend, at his request, bought him a ticket for Terre Haute and put him on a train. I am not greatly worried. He'll come back."

No Manoeuvre, She Says. Mrs. Palmer emphatically denied that she believes her husband left town because he was being pursued by a woman manoeuvre.

"That's ridiculous," she said. "My husband is all right. There is nothing in that manoeuvre story."

Halzlip said Thursday that Palmer frequently made trips out of town and that on these occasions he invariably gave Halzlip a power of attorney to look after his business.

"Palmer's business affairs are in good shape," Halzlip said. "One creditor has filed an attachment suit for a small claim since his departure, but that was not necessary. The creditor became panic-stricken, that's all."

CHAMP CLARK DISCOURSES ON "UNCLE JOE" CANNON AND DEVIL

Speaking on Appropriations, Adds "There Is No Similarity Between These Two."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In a speech in the House yesterday, inveighing against increases made by the Senate in appropriations for various branches of the Government, Minority Leader Clark recalled the time when Speaker Cannon, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, had fought hard against such increases. "Sometimes he would be as good as lost; but he always fought."

When he added "I believe in giving the devil his due," the House was thrown into a tumult of laughter.

Mr. Clark explained, however, that "There is no similarity between these two gentlemen."

Mr. and Mrs. Scholl were married June 23, 1886, and separated Oct. 12, 1908. They lived at 2824 1/2 Texas avenue.

Mrs. Lena Scholl denied all her husband's testimony. He said she had bought four or five hats every year. She asserted she had bought but three hats in the three years they were married.

It was untrue, she said, that there was not enough food in the house. She provided a bountiful table, she testified.

She told of finding a ring in her husband's pocket, which she believed had come from Mrs. Denby, the woman previously mentioned in the wife's answer and petition. She said the ring bore the inscription "F. D. to W. D." She said those were the initials of Mrs. Denby and Mr. Denby.

Mrs. Scholl denied she had ever gone to the theatre with, or even knew, Arthur Terrell, who testified he had taken her out several times.

Miss Rose Piper testified Scholl had sent her sister a box of candy, containing a note. This bore the message, "With best love and kisses, E. J. S." Mrs. Scholl identified the writing as that of her husband.

RAILROADS ARE DEFENDING HIGH FREIGHT RATES

Shippers are giving testimony Thursday before the Interstate Commerce Commission at the Hotel Jefferson in the Texas rate cases. Since Feb. 15 the railroads have been presenting evidence to convince the Commission that they were warranted in making an increase of 10 to 14 per cent in freight rates last August.

The St. Louis Merchants' Exchange and the Missouri Manufacturers' Association, through their traffic officials, are aiding the Texas railroad Commission in fighting the rates. The Business Men's League of St. Louis is also an intervenor, but it has not offered to render any assistance in fighting the railroads.

J. S. Lincoln of the Merchants' Exchange Traffic Bureau, and Peter M. Hanson of the Missouri Manufacturers' Association, are furnishing material to the Texas lawyers who are conducting the hearing in behalf of the shippers.

The Commission is holding night sessions in an effort to get through with the hearing. Freight traffic to the Southwest has been greatly affected by the increase and has worked a decided disadvantage to the St. Louis shippers, according to their traffic representatives.

The railroads defend the increase of rates on account of expenditures for improvements and increased cost of materials. The shippers contend that it is unfair to force them to pay for the improvements in the increased rates.

All of the Texas railroads, including the Santa Fe, Iron Mountain, Price and Southern Pacific, are defendants. Commissioners Harlan and Clarke are hearing the testimony. Judge E. H. Cowan of Texas is conducting the case in behalf of the shippers.

"I made Mrs. Scholl accompany me to the engine house," said Denby. "I told Scholl what his wife had told me, and warned him to take care of his own wife and I would take care of mine."

"I later realized there was no cause for my jealousy, and sent my wife to bring Scholl to me that I might apologize for my conduct. I had complained to Scholl's chief about the matter, and was sorry I had done so."

Miss Emma Piper of 213 Allen avenue testified Scholl resented himself to her as an unmarried man, and when she learned differently she refused to have anything to do with him.

Mrs. Scholl, according to her husband's testimony, frequently was in the company of other men. He told of following her on two such occasions, and of obtaining the names of the men.

On the first occasion he had the couple arrested, but declined to prosecute, he said, when the police captain told him he had sufficient evidence to procure a divorce.

The second time, he said, he saw his wife and a man talking in the hallway of her sister's home. He waited for the man, and obtained his name, he said.

Scholl denied having received an umbrella as a present from a woman. He said the umbrella came to the engine house addressed to him, but that he did not know who sent it.

Mr. and Mrs. Scholl were married June 23, 1886, and separated Oct. 12, 1908. They lived at 2824 1/2 Texas avenue.

Mrs. Lena Scholl denied all her husband's testimony. He said she had bought four or five hats every year. She asserted she had bought but three hats in the three years they were married.

GIRL CRUSADER CONVICTS BOY OF BEATING MULES

Miss Little Nagel of 1827 Belt avenue Thursday made her fourth appearance in the Dayton Street Police Court to prosecute a charge of cruelty to animals. She obtained her fourth conviction.

Miss Nagel testified that when she left a Wellston car at Seventh and Morgan streets at 5 p. m. Wednesday she saw Leo Brockman, aged 14, of 333 North Spring avenue beating a team of mules with an oak club four feet long and three inches thick. She watched him until a passing car cut off her view, she said, and then she heard the whacks.

She followed Brockman and his mules to Seventh and Washington avenues, where she encountered Policeman Noel of Central District and Brockman was arrested.

When Miss Nagel took the witness stand in police court Thursday she carried a club neatly wrapped in white tissue paper, held with rubber bands.

"That's what he beat the mules with," she explained, showing it to Judge Pollard.

"Where did he hit them?" she was asked. "On the back," she testified.

Brockman said the geography was inaccurate. "I hit them about once on the side," he testified.

"How old are you?" "I was 16 on Washington's birthday." "Twenty dollars," said Judge Pollard. "However, as you were only 14 on Washington's birthday, I'll stay the fine on good behavior. But don't you hit another mule, on the back or the side either."

STATE JUVENILE COURTS.

The work of the St. Louis Juvenile Court since its establishment in 1901 fully justifies the adoption of the system throughout the State.

In a letter to the Post-Dispatch published Feb. 24, Mrs. Henry W. Elliot recalls the old procedure, when the child, arrested for the violation of a city ordinance or a State law, was locked up in the holdover and tried in the courts along with the dregs of the criminal population. Whether the trial ended in conviction or acquittal the effect upon the child's mind and character was always bad and could not be otherwise.

The need of distinguishing between the hardened criminal and the child offender, in procedure and penalty, brought about the new courts in St. Louis and three counties, and it is now proposed, by a bill before the Assembly, to establish juvenile courts in all counties having a population of 50,000 or more and in all cities of considerable size.

Such legislation is demanded in the interest of humanity. But the courts should not be made political prizes for partisan workers. The St. Louis court, so far, has been kept entirely free from such influences, and it should be protected from a political raid. And when the system is extended throughout the State the same rule should govern the Legislature. It is a work of humanity; the social interest only should be consulted. Political "workers" must be made to keep hands off.

Never in the history of St. Louis was there greater need for not only honest men, but strong, capable men in municipal offices. The policy of public improvements with the honest administration of public business which has characterized the Wells administration must be carried on efficiently and economically. The great expenditures of the next few years must be wisely directed.

GENTLEMEN OFFEND ONE ANOTHER.

The evidence thus far brought out in the Carnack-Cooper case is very simple and understandable.

One gentleman offended another gentleman, who retorted in kind. After that, of course, there was nothing to do but have "meetings," "conferences" and "consultations" with friends. Then came fireworks.

The line of cold bread and tea began moving southward soon after the Civil War. But it seems not to have carried with it any argument persuasive enough to gentlemen to prevent unpleasant consequences when one gentleman offends another gentleman or when two gentlemen offend one another.

It is a great pity, because the South and the whole country are often deprived of the valuable services of a strong man, if he happens to be, at the same time, a gentleman with a turn for giving offense. No offense is intended by these few remarks, but we can't help thinking.

Gov. Hadley can effectively settle the controversy over Election Commissioner James G. Carlisle's appointment by reappointing this capable and honest official. Politicians who demand his removal are opposed to his work for the purification of the ballot box in St. Louis.

PUBLICITY AND SCIENCE.

A series of striking photographs in "Popular Mechanics" for March illustrate the manufacture of snakeskin purses for the European and American markets. The factory is located in the Colony of Sumatra, where under a Caucasian superintendent, who stands in the background educating them, the natives are shown at work. As the skin from a living snake makes a purse much softer to the touch of delicate fingers than the stiffened skin from a dead snake, it is worth much more. The photographs which show the process of skinning the snakes alive are striking. After being stripped, the snakes writhe for hours. The photographs which illustrate this, might be considered an almost sublime instance of what science has done for veracity in reporting facts.

In another article, the camera reports with equal veracity results which also belong to "the white man's burden" among Asiatics. Encouraged by the proclamation of constitutional self-government, the Turks of Salonica are beginning to improve the streets. On the arrival of the first steam roller ever seen in Salonica, the population is shown following it up and down the street, giving it an "ovation," as it works out their idea of freedom to improve. The illustration is close enough in its report of details to show the width to which they open their mouths to shout.

Publicity of this kind shows just how the world moves, with all its parts moving together. Its progress will go on, until people "at the top" with the most delicate nerves in the world, will learn to bear the disagreeable feeling which shows that the snake was not skinned alive for their purses.

THE EASIEST WAY IN TAXATION.

The Post-Dispatch's criticism of Gov. Hadley's plan to meet the revenue deficiency in part by levying a tax on corporations is not based upon opposition to corporation taxes. We believe that they are fair subjects of taxation and should be taxed to the full measure of their obligations as favored creatures of the government to contribute to its support.

If the separation of State and local taxation recommended by Gov. Folk's Tax Commission and embodied in a constitutional amendment had been adopted the State might properly have drawn a large revenue from corporation taxes. Franchise corporations should be taxed to the full measure of their privileges.

We object to the unequal taxation which prevails under the present system, which will be retained so long as the inequalities are permitted to exist. We object to the grossly unjust burden of the State's support which is laid upon St. Louis. We object to the proposed plan of levying additional taxes upon corporations, the greater part of which will be collected in this already overtaxed city; while the existing tax inequalities are maintained. The fact that a corporation tax is the easiest collected does not make it just.

The Board of Equalization should do its full legal duty in the equalizing of assessment valuations and making them uniform throughout the State before the Legislature is asked to authorize new taxes, which will bear upon the actual business interests.

Inheritances above a moderate amount ought to be taxed progressively. Whether breweries ought to be licensed is rather a question of public policy than of taxation. To propose additional taxes for breweries belongs to the makeshift policy of taxation which seeks to levy taxes in a manner which will cause the least political danger.

But it is time to protest against the disposition of State authorities, who want to dodge their responsibilities and duties, to chuck troublesome tax burdens on the manufacturing and commercial interests.

An important task of the party committees is the selection of candidates for the School Board. Under the bi-partisan plan the committee of each leading party selects two candidates and the four names are placed on both tickets. This plan has worked admirably to date. The same standard of fitness which has hitherto governed the selection of candidates should rule both committees for the approaching election. Nothing would cause more damage to a party in the public mind than an attempt to inject politics into the school, or to reduce the prevailing standard of qualification for Board membership.

OH, THOSE SUFFRAGETTES!

Oh, those English suffragettes! Having learned from the postal authorities that under the parcels post system in vogue in London it was possible to send "human letters," they addressed two valuable members of their clan to Premier Asquith and started them on their journey, having decided that was the only way to get an interview. They were delivered at the Premier's residence, but the servants refused to accept them and rather than be sent to the dead-letter office the two animated missives returned to their homes.

One of the letters was a "Miss" and the other was a "Mrs." If the contents of the parcels were fresh and attractive they should find some one willing to accept them, especially on Valentine's day.

The incident is interesting and enlightening when the agitation for a parcels post in the United States gains new vigor by the political passing of Expressman-Senator Platt.

If the free-bridge row is really settled, what shall we do for mild excitement?

THE REAL POINT.

Except possibly in the matter of dodging taxes, Mrs. Hetty Green is as law-abiding as any hundred millionaire. But that was not the point for comment in connection with the marriage of her daughter, Sylvia.

The point is so important that all commentators who have missed it, ought to turn back, find it and begin over again in giving the world the benefit of the moral of the marriage.

Once found, the point is unmistakable. Mrs. Green is not only very rich, but she is independently rich. She is independently rich not because she is very rich, but in spite of it. The independent and dependent poor among her neighbors in Hoboken have their social and other ideas. She did not outrage them, but she depended on her own. She astonished and also gratified Hoboken. As for the observances which bind the dependent rich, she ignored them with her usual calm dependence, not on her own money or theirs, but on her own mind. When she says she is happy "because Sylvia is happy," Hoboken wishes the family joy and it is not too late for the country to join Hoboken in full appreciation of the point and the moral.

Mr. Roosevelt neglected to state in his biography of Mr. Taft—in the Inaugural Souvenir—that the President-elect has never been guilty of saying anything so grossly impolitic as "Not until an American fleet returns victorious from a battle at sea will there be such a home coming."

The individual who is fined $4 for a petty swindle feels disgraced. Is there no similar feeling in the case of the officers of a corporation which is fined $12,000 for violating the anti-rebate laws?

An Elgin (Ill.) banker has married the laundress whom his first wife employed. He showed tact and judgment, for he might have married a chorus girl or a child.

Friday and Saturday of this week are the days when the scores of all honest men for bums in politics should be effectively expressed by votes at primaries.

Mulvihill will retire with the glad consciousness that none of his enemies have been able to "hang anything onto him."

A good man who as candidate for Mayor heads a bad ticket will deserve defeat.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Auto Horn.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I live in the block between Taylor and Walton on Washington boulevard and would like to know if there are any city ordinances which, if enforced, would reach certain addled motor car drivers who have an idea they are locomotive engineers. Several in particular try to see how closely they can imitate the standard railroad crossing signal by blowing their whistles, starting at Taylor and continuing until Walton is reached, then possibly they find the garage doors closed in the garage at the corner of Walton and Washington and keep up the good work until every good citizen is looking for his shotgun, and some would use them if they were not as law-abiding as the chauffeurs are not. This complaint does not refer to the user of the ordinary horn, but applies to the whistles blown by the engine exhaust.
WASHINGTON.

Patterson Still a Socialist.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Will you kindly allow space for a correction of the article published by you a few days ago wherein you reported Joseph Medill Patterson of Chicago as having "renounced Socialism and upon a promise to be good in the future, was elected to the Secretaryship of the publishing company of which his father is president, etc." You will notice from the enclosed facsimile of Mr. Patterson's denial that the whole story was the rankest kind of a canard and your spirit of fair play will prompt you to set your readers right in the matter.

Elevated Roads Out of Date.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I read in a recent issue the letter of "Chicagoan," boosting "Chicago's rapid transit" and particularly the elevated system of Chicago. For his benefit I enclose clippings from the Chicago News and Chicago Chronicle, giving their opinions of elevated roads and stating that elevated roads are out of date and advising St. Louis against building elevated roads. The writer recently rode on Chicago surface cars and did not find them superior to the best lines in St. Louis. Many are short cars, with seats running lengthwise, with carpet covers, especially those centering on Dearborn street. ST. LOUISIAN.

Small Park Needed.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I saw in last night's paper that the Council was going to report favorably on the Christian Brothers Park bill. If the city has $20,000 to pay for a park, let them place a small one around Chouteau avenue, between Broadway and Eighteenth street. They need one there.

A Wife on Working Girls.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I wish to answer letter written by "Not an Old Maid." My idea is that any girl who is working for a salary, and it is not necessary for her to work, is committing a very great sin by taking the bread out of a poor girl's mouth, or perhaps some poor man can feed his wife and family on the money she earns. N. A. O. M. tells us she "shows ambition." There are dozens of other ways to show ambition: Let her learn to cook, sew, and keep house properly. There should be a law that every girl asking for work should have a paper signed by some minister, or some person who knows, showing that it is necessary for her to work. Any man or woman who employs a girl who does not have to work, should be punished; if that were the case, there would not be so many men out of work. Wake up, St. Louis. N. A. O. M. complains about married life. I have been married about three years and have not had one unhappy moment, not even an unhappy thought. In those three years, and I do wish that single girls would keep quiet about things they know nothing about. If a wife is a good, honest, trusting wife, she will have a good husband. In answer to letters regarding stenographers, my husband has a very pretty stenographer, sitting by his side from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. I love and trust my husband, keep his home clean, his clothing clean and mended, his meals on time, allow him to smoke in any part of the house at all times, and keep myself looking tidy, and that is why my husband is happy when 5:30 p. m. comes around, and that is why his wife does not worry about the stenographer. AN OLD WIFE.

A Monument to Ingenuity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I am sad when F. D. says I take everything in solemn and stupid earnest. I am deeply grieved at the keen suffering of Col. Ingenuity over the crime of drunkenness. This must have been taken the Col. off. His work in the cause of Liberty is a tall monument to him.

Voting Machines Needed.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The new St. Louis should hasten to insure the confidence of all good citizens and show fairness to all those coming to establish business or make homes here. To insure fairness for all political parties, steps should be taken at once to negotiate with the manufacturers of voting machines, who would only be too glad to install them for trial at our coming elections, to demonstrate their feasibility, with a view of getting them installed into Greater St. Louis for our coming elections. This would do away with ballot box stuffing and expensive recounts at the cost of the taxpayers. Then and only then will we begin the real new St. Louis. We cannot act too quick if we want a square deal. The repeaters are already at work, the ballot box stuffer will work overtime and the so-called judges do the rest.
DISGUSTED ONE WHO KNOWS.

Chicago's Merits Upheld.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In his letter regarding Chicago surface lines, J. L. Rink omitted to state that the Wentworth avenue, Cottage Grove, Clark, Indiana, Thirty-ninth street, Forty-third street, Forty-seventh street, several other lines, in all, are running cars equal to any in St. Louis. As to the "junk" on Western avenue, same or worse can be found on the Cass, Seventh, Lee, Spring, Tower Grove, Cherokee, Eighteenth, Union and Manchester lines, while the rails are simply abominable. The one-horse horse car is a suburb and as to its taking 20 minutes for three blocks—well, whoever held the watch would better have it fixed.
COIT ANGEL SMITH.

KANSAS CHIVALRY.

From the Topeka Capital.
It seems that only 250 women have registered to participate in the city primaries while the male registration is 10,000, and some of the prominent women of the city are expressing fears for the success of the women who are candidates for places on the School Board. These fears are groundless. The men of the city are well enough acquainted with the women ought to have representation on this board, which handles those public affairs that are so close to the home. They can be depended upon to see that the women candidates for membership in the Board of Education are nominated by handsome majorities.

DAMP AT DRY CREEK.

From the Nashville American.
Many illicit stills are reported to flourish on Dry Creek, in Cooke County. The constituents of these Joy-Jule factories do not understand or appreciate why any community should put up a rear simply because the high-licensed saloons are taken away from it.

A SLAB ON THE WRIST.

From the Washington Herald.
A correspondent writes to ask if it is not possible to put more cars on during the rush hours. We do not see why not. Certainly the conditions on some lines are very bad.

GOOD HEROES ARE DEAD.

From the New York Mail.
Real heroes are like Sherman's definition of "good Indians;" they are all dead. They commit suicide as heroes by appearing in the music halls, by qualifying as professional athletes, by yielding too readily to the camera, by succumbing to kissing bees, by becoming too strong to work—in one method or another by seeking to capitalize the admiration of the moment into permanent maintenance and support. If they escape suicide they are asphyxiated by the adulation of mankind or extinguished in its speedy forgetfulness.

HIGH HEELS AND DAMAGES.

From the Baltimore News.
In two separate cases New York juries have decided that a woman who wears high-heeled shoes is at a disadvantage when she sees a street railway company for damages for injuries sustained by falling off cars. In both instances the jury held there was ground for belief that the accident was due to the height of the heels worn by the plaintiffs.

INSOLUBLE PROBLEM.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
The St. Louis Journal of Agriculture calculates that our Lores are worth $1,974,000,000, our mules $437,083,000, our milch cows $702,945,000, other cattle $363,740,000, sheep $192,632,000 and swine $364,746,000. Nobody has yet undertaken to figure out what our United States senators are worth.

DEBTS PAID LONG AGO.

From the Indianapolis News.
It seems that the St. Louis exposition, like a good many people, would be glad to pay its debts if it didn't need the money for other purposes. And besides, the loss of such a sum by the Government can make no serious difference in our thriftily growing deficit.

INDELICACIES.

"By the way, if the kangaroo and the opossum are good to eat, why should not the pelican be equally toothsome? It has a pouch," Chicago Tribune.
A line of reasoning which would reveal to us a new luscious table delicacy in the stand-patter—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WINNING THE SOUTH.

From the Indianapolis News.
It seems quite possible that the proposed new method of appointing Federal office holders in the South will be the old make-up-the-law plan which has been so dear to the heart of the receding administration.

SOMETHING ROTTEN IN DENMARK.

That historic condition which Hamlet predicated of the state of Denmark is made the ground of lively suspicion in connection with the expiring municipal legislature by the testimony in the bribery cases.

A BAIT.

From the Indianapolis Star.
We should say that if they take us into the National League, Indianapolis would be good for about $60,000 paid admissions whenever the Cubs or Giants cross bats with the Browns.

SAWS AND KEEPS MUM.

From the Philadelphia Press.
The Governor of Missouri saws wood in the cellar of the executive mansion, and like most politicians who saw wood he isn't saying anything.

MERE LOCAL COLOR.

From the Atlanta Constitution.
New York ridicules Missouri's pretensions to art, and yet there are Missouri sculptors who can put life in the lifted heels of a marble muse.

AND MISSOURI, TOO.

From the Washington Herald.
The Standard Oil Co. is probably miffed at the fact, too, that Texas is a mighty big place to have to keep out.

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

MR. ANTWINE ON THE FLEET.

THEY were all talking about the 45,000-mile cruise and saying what a great business it was. Mr. Antwine said nothing for a while, but looked through his paper to see what was new with the commission for civilizing farmers. However, when Alf Simpson, who has a son with the fleet, ventured the opinion that the successful completion of the cruise would put the fear of us into the hearts of the other maritime nations, the old gentleman sheathed his spectacles and reasoned with them as it is done in Missouri.

"Of course," he said, "the fleet has done nobly, and we're all proud of it, but patin' it on the back; but that's no sign we agree with Mr. Roosevelt and all other persons of equal excitement in the premises that it proves we kin lick anybody popularly supposed to be able to lick us before the fleet started."

"You remember," he continued, "that Rojstevsky could cruise. Gads, how he could cruise! He made a remarkable trip from the Baltic Sea around to the Shushima Straits, an' when he got there the unraveled fleet under Togo popped out from behind an islan' an' knocked four or five kinds of caviar out of him."

Alf Simpson especially was silent, and Storekeeper Dabbs was so amused that he ran the sugar scoop into the pickle barrel.

"No," said the Ozark philosopher, "the cruise proves nothin' one way or 't'other except that the fleet can cruise 45,000 miles so long as there is no interference an' that Columbus was right about the shape of the earth. To hear Mr. Roosevelt tell it an' see him turn han' springs around Hampton Roads you'd suppose that the safe return of the fleet had put Reuter's an' the other critics of the Navy into the Amenias Club an' left us in a position to sail the seven seas seekin' whom we might sink. It's done nothin' of the sort. Togo filled Davy Jones' locker with Russians as fast as he could empty it without any of the advantages of travel an' deep sea drill. He had seen very little scenery, had never heard of Cook, didn't know whether Neptune was a god or a sea-serpent, an' had never been out o' sight of land. All his navigators knew about evolutions they had picked up within gunshot of their own navy yards. Yet when the tourists from the other side of the world steamed in from Russia the provincial sea fighters of the Mikadsky walked out on 'em an' sunk 'em like so many ferryboats, guide books an' all."

"However," Mr. Antwine concluded, not caring to rub it in too hard on Alf and the rest of them, "the cruise was a great feat, an' it's done the Navy a lot of good. But sense is sense. If the ships that stayed home had lined up in front of Hampton Roads an' fought the ships that done all the travelin', they would probably have sunk 'em within sight of home. I'm not sayin' they would, but they probably would. Anyway, the home-comers would have had to hit 'em with sunple' harder than Baedekers an' 45,000 miles of log."

"Yep," Alf assented, "that's right. Mr. Roosevelt surely is an awful excitable person."

GRADUAL PROHIBITION.

Beginning tonight, the saloons of St. Louis will be closed under the primary and Sunday laws for 71 consecutive hours.

Isn't there a suggestion in this? The temperance people insist that all Missouri will be dry by 1910, and from what we hear out of Jefferson City, we guess so, too. It has happened to Memphis, Mobile, Atlanta and other big Southern cities as opposed to it as St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, and we imagine that after the farmers have got through with us it will take about twelve men as big as Ben Adkins to hold down the job of Water Commissioner.

But while we do not question the power of the drys, we are not inclined to regard them as being altogether mercies. Their avowed object, as they have often said, is to save the boys rather than to preserve the old ladies. That being so, why not let the boys have their beer, and let the old ladies have their wine?

BROWNS FIND LITTLE SUNSHINE IN CAMP AT FRENCH LICK, BUT HOPES ARE BRIGHT ANYWAY

BROWNS BRIGHT IN SPIRIT EVEN IF DAYS ARE DARK

Veterans Training at French Lick Have Confidence in Success of Team of 1909.

BY JOHN E. WRAY,
Sporting Editor Post-Dispatch.

RED hot for the pennant and nothing short of it, are the veterans who tramped out in rain, snow and mud, yesterday, intent on getting that keen edge of physical condition which will enable them to start the season with a rush. In these days of bickering between magnates it is a relief to turn to these veteran players, united to a finish on one theme, thinking of nothing but baseball and avoiding the rock of discord, for the sake of the common good of the game.

They set the magnates, a worthy example; as, after all, these are the men who make baseball, not the wire pullers and their puppets. A poll of the men shows that all think the Browns will be one-two. Most of them think Cleveland must be beaten. They are not figuring on the old theory that want of a good left-hander will beat the Blues; for Ferris and Dinnane tell how Boston twice did the trick. It is even on the cards that Barney Peltz, especially a bugbear for the Blues, will be used especially to defeat this team.

All figure that the club which can best stand the terrific grueling sure to result from this year's race, is the club that will land in front. That is why the men need not be coached or calmed into working, and why even Rube Waddell jumps out in front and shows the way, through the cross-country mud, to the haven of physical perfection.

The championship just is surely upon the team. From Hot Springs, Williams reports good progress and great health. Haddock is coming, though not here. Wallace may or may not join the team here. His training is light, as he is always in condition.

"All he does," says Harry Howell, "is to jump out on the diamond, throw one ball to first, and he's ready for a championship race."

And he is the wonderful Scot, they may all have their Wagner and Tinkers, but he is the one who is a fielder not as a model of propriety, always.

Have Spirit to Win.
THE Browns will try even more earnestly than last year for that flag. After every workout, the conversation lapses into baseball and that argues interest in the game. McAlleer had his players with him to a man, last season. For McAlleer was with his players.

And perhaps you think players don't notice! Hobe Ferris tells of a game with Washington in which the Browns needed one run. Three men tried to score during the crucial inning for the Browns. One after the other, they were caught at the plate. Hobe was frothing at the mouth, but his wrath changed to amusement when he saw McAlleer pick up the bag containing the balls and angrily throw them against the awning roof.

"That ain't all," said Hobe. "The boys ate his head and the game real hot during a close battle. One time we had to put in three pitchers. Each time McAlleer moved up a little toward the edge of the bench. The last man to go in was Criss and, after this time McAlleer was sitting on the very edge of the board. Just as the opposing batter landed on one for a safe hit McAlleer "batted" so hard for a strike that he slipped clear off and whacked the ground real solid. That safe hit hurt so badly that I don't believe he ever felt the jar."

HARRY HOWELL'S training has been interfered with. The hotel plane is absolutely unfit for use.

Mr. Wolfe, who anoints Ajax Powell and Achille Dinnane as their gymnasium work, gave a musicale to the boys. Caruso, Schuman-Heinck, Wagner and Liszt were heard with enjoyment by the baseball players. It was just a graphophone performance.

Harry Howell is something of an athlete, but he was hardly expected to do anything sensational at a graphophone party. But he did—he broke a record.

There was a minor current here last night, but an old inhabitant had been found who remembered a baseball team which found sunshine when its members trained here. Little credence is given the report as it is believed sensibility has broken down the testifier's mind.

Instead of having a "casual water" on the golf-links, here, after the rain, close inspection might enable the seeker to find a little land. Up at West Baden there was good canoeing as far up as the nineteenth hole. The lid has recently been put on this.

ONE would think two noted linguists were giving each other an oral examination in languages when Bill Dinnane and Harry Howell got together. If you should eavesdrop you'd catch such words as "Tcharkowsky," "Gablrowitch," "Donkett," "Jadassohn," "Grieg," "Chopin," "Schumann," "Paganini," and others hard to assimilate. But come to find out it's just the musical bug buzzing.

Last year French Lick afforded such variations of the amusement bill-of-fare as "Klondike," "Keno," "roulette," "poker," and horse racing as witnessed in pool rooms. This season the lid has been fastened down with the big stick. But then if Dick Handlan can stand it the baseball men ought to be able to stagger along peacefully.

CORRIGAN AND HEASLIP
FREE FROM BETTING CHARGE
NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 25.—Ed Corrigan and Owner Heaslip of the City Park track are today free from any charges in connection with their "test" betting. It was alleged they were conducting a betting ring and for which they were indicted.

W. W. Lyle, promoter of the test, was found guilty of "aiding and abetting the operation of a betting book." Sentence was deferred and he was released on bond.

The District Attorney expressed the opinion that Heaslip was innocent of any collusion in the test race, but stated that he quashed the Corrigan charges because he could not make a case against the turfman and not because he thought him innocent. This statement was ruled out by the court.

Demetris Wins on Mat.
SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 24.—William Demetris won his wrestling match against Tom Coburn and Young Pardoll tonight. The Greek scored by throwing both the man alternating falls in 30 minutes. The four falls were secured in 62 minutes.

Girls Swim Seven Hours.
LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 25.—Miss Marie E. Pike of Madison, S. D., yesterday broke Miss Lillie Williams' record for continuous swimming without a rest by staying in the plunge here seven hours. She entered the water at 8:30 a. m. and left it at 4:50 p. m. Miss Pike came here a year ago practically an invalid.

Hayes and Dorando to Meet.
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Johnny Hayes, the Olympic Marathon winner, is going to have another chance against Dorando Pietri. Hayes, who has been on the trail of the Italian since the latter defeated him in Madison Square Garden some time ago, has at last been promised a return match. The race will take place some time next month.

Red Sox Start South.
BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 25.—American team left this afternoon for the regular spring practice at Hot Springs, Ark. The team will play ball in Arkansas for four weeks and then work back east to open the season in Philadelphia with the Athletics on April 22.

ST. LOUIS AWARDED MOTOR BOAT RACE

Announcement will be made in a few days by the American Power Boat Association that the annual national championship race for all boats 20 feet in length and under has been awarded to the St. Louis Power Boat Association and will be decided on the Mississippi River at this city on Decoration day, May 30.

This race will be for what is known as the bronze trophy. Boats from all over the country will be shipped to St. Louis for the race, as it is not difficult to ship the 20-footers. The average speed of the 20-footers is about twenty miles an hour.

There are three championship divisions each year. The first is for the gold trophy, valued at $1000, and is for boats up to 40 feet in length. The second class is for boats 32 feet or under and is for a silver cup. The third class for the 20-footers is for the bronze trophy, which must cost no less than $250, and it is the third class that is to be held in St. Louis.

The members of the St. Louis Power Boat Association held their annual banquet at the Blue Grass Hotel last night. The association was represented at a meeting of the American Power Boat Association held at New York by H. F. Combs. Combs returned from New York only yesterday. Combs was one of the members of the committee which had the awarding of the championship events. The Thousand Islands Boat Club will in all probability get both the gold cup and silver cup races. Other Eastern clubs wanted the small boat event, but Combs pointed out that the race should come to St. Louis, and as he personally guaranteed the $250 for the bronze trophy he got the race. Clubs from the Pacific Coast, Florida, Minnesota and other parts of the country were represented at New York.

Walter Beauvais is about the only local man with a fast 20-foot racing boat in St. Louis at present. It is expected that quite a number of local men will build new 20-footers, for the reason that the championship trophies are subject to challenge for one year and the holder of the cup has the right to name the place where they shall be held.

MOTORING

By NELSON T. GUTELIUS

SHORTLY after my unsatisfactory affair with Joe Gans, I decided to take a trip abroad. Can you believe that for a fellow who ten years before had been riding on the trucks of a train and slinging hash at a cheap restaurant? But you never can tell.

I rigged myself up in a swell layout of clothes and booked passage on the steamer Majestic. Finally I set sail from New York and arrived in Liverpool a week later, after a most delightful voyage.

I was met by a committee of English sports and escorted to London. There I put up at the Hotel Cecil. I had a great time for a couple of days and then accepted an engagement at one of the big music halls at Newcastle on the Tyne. I showed in conjunction with the Gans-Nelson pictures and proved as big a drawing card over there as I had been in the United States.

Bat Tendered a Banquet.
I was tendered a banquet by the Hon. Louis Zoller, Danish Consul at Newcastle. Among the notable present were the Lord Mayor of Newcastle, Count Oubridge and Maj. Harvey Scott. The dinner was laid in the select banquet hall of the Northumberland Cafe. A number of speeches were made and they finally called on me. I felt pretty good that night and I managed to say that I appreciated the compliment.

As I stood there in swell clothes I couldn't help going back to the day that I looked the Terrible Unknown in Wallace's circus, and had my coat and vest stolen, as well as my highly prized Waterbury watch.

After the dinner the entire party attended the theater as my guests in a private box.

It was in London that I had a good chance to show my American spirit. As a result I think I can truthfully say that no fighter has more friends in London than I have today.

I met with such overwhelming success as a drawing card that two days after my opening night I was signed for a 12 weeks' contract in the city of London, on the Holborn-Emper circuit. Under my contract I was to receive $1000 per week to show in one house at a time. I only worked a week when the Artists' Federation went on strike. The Artists' Federation consisted of practically all the actors and actresses working on the continent.

ST. LOUIS AWARDED MOTOR BOAT RACE

Announcement will be made in a few days by the American Power Boat Association that the annual national championship race for all boats 20 feet in length and under has been awarded to the St. Louis Power Boat Association and will be decided on the Mississippi River at this city on Decoration day, May 30.

This race will be for what is known as the bronze trophy. Boats from all over the country will be shipped to St. Louis for the race, as it is not difficult to ship the 20-footers. The average speed of the 20-footers is about twenty miles an hour.

There are three championship divisions each year. The first is for the gold trophy, valued at $1000, and is for boats up to 40 feet in length. The second class is for boats 32 feet or under and is for a silver cup. The third class for the 20-footers is for the bronze trophy, which must cost no less than $250, and it is the third class that is to be held in St. Louis.

The members of the St. Louis Power Boat Association held their annual banquet at the Blue Grass Hotel last night. The association was represented at a meeting of the American Power Boat Association held at New York by H. F. Combs. Combs returned from New York only yesterday. Combs was one of the members of the committee which had the awarding of the championship events. The Thousand Islands Boat Club will in all probability get both the gold cup and silver cup races. Other Eastern clubs wanted the small boat event, but Combs pointed out that the race should come to St. Louis, and as he personally guaranteed the $250 for the bronze trophy he got the race. Clubs from the Pacific Coast, Florida, Minnesota and other parts of the country were represented at New York.

Walter Beauvais is about the only local man with a fast 20-foot racing boat in St. Louis at present. It is expected that quite a number of local men will build new 20-footers, for the reason that the championship trophies are subject to challenge for one year and the holder of the cup has the right to name the place where they shall be held.

SHORTLY after my unsatisfactory affair with Joe Gans, I decided to take a trip abroad. Can you believe that for a fellow who ten years before had been riding on the trucks of a train and slinging hash at a cheap restaurant? But you never can tell.

I rigged myself up in a swell layout of clothes and booked passage on the steamer Majestic. Finally I set sail from New York and arrived in Liverpool a week later, after a most delightful voyage.

I was met by a committee of English sports and escorted to London. There I put up at the Hotel Cecil. I had a great time for a couple of days and then accepted an engagement at one of the big music halls at Newcastle on the Tyne. I showed in conjunction with the Gans-Nelson pictures and proved as big a drawing card over there as I had been in the United States.

Bat Tendered a Banquet.
I was tendered a banquet by the Hon. Louis Zoller, Danish Consul at Newcastle. Among the notable present were the Lord Mayor of Newcastle, Count Oubridge and Maj. Harvey Scott. The dinner was laid in the select banquet hall of the Northumberland Cafe. A number of speeches were made and they finally called on me. I felt pretty good that night and I managed to say that I appreciated the compliment.

As I stood there in swell clothes I couldn't help going back to the day that I looked the Terrible Unknown in Wallace's circus, and had my coat and vest stolen, as well as my highly prized Waterbury watch.

After the dinner the entire party attended the theater as my guests in a private box.

It was in London that I had a good chance to show my American spirit. As a result I think I can truthfully say that no fighter has more friends in London than I have today.

I met with such overwhelming success as a drawing card that two days after my opening night I was signed for a 12 weeks' contract in the city of London, on the Holborn-Emper circuit. Under my contract I was to receive $1000 per week to show in one house at a time. I only worked a week when the Artists' Federation went on strike. Pictures Show Burns Was Aggressive All the Way

London Has First Sight of Australian Fight
Britt Thinks Jeff Would Beat Black.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

THE Burns-Johnson fight pictures are running now in London. Jimmy Britt, who saw them, says it is evident from the pictures that Burns is anything but whipped when the police jumped in and stopped the fight. "Johnson was too big and strong," says Britt. "He had nothing on Burns in cleverness, but his weight told, and his height made him hard to reach. After seeing the pictures, I feel safe in predicting that if Jeff half as good as he used to be, meets Johnson, Jeff will stop him without any trouble."

Sporting Life says: "From first to last Johnson shows himself the better man. Round after round we notice the introduction of his famous uppercut, which proved the undoing of his smaller rival. We can, however, but admire the manner in which Burns sticks pluckily to the task of attempting to gain the upper hand of his taller and heavier opponent. We can also understand another chance to meet Ketchell, he was still strong and the pictures show everything. He is seen to be able to rise to his feet in the fourteenth round, after being sent to the boards, anxious to continue. The police inspector, however, is seen to be making his way to the ring."

"Once Burns slipped and his fall with his foot twisted under him in the fifth round is shown distinctly. Johnson administered considerable punishment about the head in their tenth round, but Burns retaliates capably when they come together again. He appears to be going strongly, and although Johnson is scoring fast to the finish, Burns leaves his corner each time in a sprightly manner."

TOMMY MURPHY and Johnny Griffith were dropped in to the Post-Dispatch Bureau yesterday. Tommy's right hand was in a big plaster cast. It was broken in the fight with Griffin in Boston. After that he fought Frankie Madden with the broken right, and then Moran. "I knew I'd have a hard time with Moran," said Tommy, "but I didn't want to be roasted for calling the match off, so I fought. It made a chill run through me whenever I landed that right. I had to box instead of fighting, because my best hand was no good. I'll never do that again. Next time I'll fight him all the way and out the boxing out. The small bones in the wrist were chipped. Dr. Walsh put this plaster cast on right after the fight, and he says it can come off in a couple of days, and my hand will be as good as ever. I want another match with Moran then. Good-by."

Kelly and Thomas in Big Fight at New York Tonight
BY JOHN POLLOCK.
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The most important bout between middleweights scheduled here tonight in this city since the old Hottop law days will take place at the stage of the Fairmont A. C. tonight, when Joe Thomas and Hugo Kelly clash. Both men are top notchers in their class, and as they have excellent records, they should put up one of the best battles ever witnessed in the East. Stanley Ketchell, the middleweight champion, has agreed to take the winner, which is an incentive alone to make the men fight their hardest in order to come out victorious and thereby get another chance to meet Ketchell, the middleweight champion of the world. Both are in as fine physical condition as they could possibly be.

At Lippe, manager of Abe Attell, last night said he was ready to get a return match for Attell with Owen Moran. He provided the latter would consent to box Attell at 125 pounds, weigh in at 6 p. m. "If Charley Harvey is willing to accept the above weight," said Lippe, "I will meet him at any time or place to complete the arrangements for the bout."

Owing to the fact that Tommy O'Toole, the Quaker City fighter, is ill and will not be able to meet Abe Attell in a six-round bout at the Washington, Sporting Club of Philadelphia on Monday night, Young Pierce, the colored featherweight of the same city, has been substituted for him. Billy McCann, manager of the club, came to town last night and clinched the bout. They will battle at 125 pounds, weigh in at 6 p. m.

Sam Langford's next fight will probably take place in Philadelphia. Sam has been offered a bout with John Wille, the Chicago heavyweight, for six rounds at the Washington Sporting Club of that city either on March 1 or 2. As Langford is anxious to pick up some change before he sails for England, the chances are that he will lose no time in taking the bout.

"Young Corbett" and Johnny Martin, the local lightweights, have begun training for their ten-round bout, which takes place at the Fairmont A. C. on Tuesday night. Corbett is rounding his condition on upper Jerome avenue with James White, the English lightweight champion, while Martin is doing his training at the West Side A. C. It should be a hard fight.

PLANS MARATHON FOR COLISEUM

Best Amateurs of Country May Be Secured for Race on March 17.

Guy Goltzman, manager of the Coliseum, has practically decided to hold a big amateur Marathon race in the Coliseum on the evening of March 17, in conjunction with a high school athletic meet. Eddie Cochems, coach of the St. Louis University athletes, will manage the event.

Unless he can secure the majority of the stars of the entire country, Goltzman will not bring off the race. Teawanna, noted Carlisle Indian runner; Sammy Mellor of Yonkers, N. Y., and Joe Forshaw of St. Louis, three top notchers, have already signified their willingness to compete. It is hoped to get Morrissey, another Eastern star, to enter. Sidney Hatch of Chicago and Erskine, winner of the 15-mile race at the St. Louis U. meet, are two more athletes who are expected to compete. In all the race will be practically for the amateur Marathon championship of the entire country.

It is expected that a professional Marathon, in which Hayes, Dorando, Pietri, Longboat, Shrubbs and other stars will compete, will be held in New York on the same evening. The result of the New York race and the time will be read off as soon as the race is finished, which will make the amateurs strive to try to better the time of the "pros."

The high school meet would also attract considerable attention, as it is practically certain that every one of the schools in the Intercollegiate League would enter teams.

This Dog Has Been Found!

His recovery is the most remarkable feat of the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, through its Secret Service Dept., the members of which comprise all of the boys and girls of St. Louis and East St. Louis who are lovers of dogs and of fair play between a finder and loser when a dog becomes lost.

This white English bull terrier wandered away from the residence of Mrs. J. Minzer, 3648 Cook avenue, on Oct. 30, and all efforts to find him failed until the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau was appealed to.

It issued a call to the boys and girls of St. Louis last Sunday morning to hunt for this dog. At 5 p. m. the same day a man called at the Minzer residence and disclosed the whereabouts of the dog. Early Monday morning a Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau from a little girl member of the Secret Service Department giving the same information that had been received by Mrs. Minzer Sunday afternoon.

Now, boys and girls, what do you think?

Mr. Dog hopped up on an express wagon down on Lawton avenue, and by 11 a. m. Monday was back in his own home on Cook avenue, wagging his tail to beat the bandmaster, hopping up on everybody and barking to beat the band, running around with his tongue hanging out about a mile, snuffling here and there and everywhere, climbing the furniture and snuffing over the beds to make sure that it was really home again and that it was not all a dream. He had had only of 'em before, don't you bet, but only this one came true.

And now, judging from his evident gleefulness, there is after all no place like home, and his looks so good to him it will be many a day before he will again.

"Wander from the old fireside."

Hats off to the boy and girl sleuths of St. Louis.

SECRET SERVICE DEPT.
Lost and Found Bureau.

(Note: The parties holding the dog gave a satisfactory explanation of how they came in possession of him and no prosecution will be made in the case.)

JOSEPH MEDILL PATTERSON SAYS HE'S STILL A SOCIALIST

Chicago Millionaire Declares Report He Has Quit Party Is "Absurd"

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago's millionaire Socialist, who was reported to have renounced the creed, has denied the story as an "absurdity." In a letter to the Chicago Socialist he says:
"I have seen two or three newspaper items to the effect that I have 'renounced socialism.' Will you kindly give me space for the denial of this absurdity? I am a dues-paying member of the Socialist party, in good standing and expect to continue to be one until the end of the chapter."
He signs the letter "Youra-fraternally, Joseph Medill Patterson."

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES ASKED TO FIGHT HOSTILE LEGISLATION

Pamphlets Containing Vice-President Willard's Address Sent to 38,000 C., B. & Q. Men.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad is preparing for circulation among its 38,000 employees a pamphlet containing an address by Vice-President Daniel Willard, of which the keynote is a plea that the railroads be given a rest from further anti-railroad legislation.

This, he declares, is necessary in order that they may adjust themselves to the conditions imposed by the host of new laws passed within the last two or three years.
Mr. Willard asserts there are now in Congress or in the legislatures of 31 states traversed by the Burlington 27 proposed laws regulating the railroads, and the employees are asked to co-operate with the management by using their influence to oppose such legislation.

NEWSBOY MADE $112,000, INVESTS IT IN BUILDING

Willie Greenburg Owner of One of the City's Handsomest Apartments.

DOESN'T LIKE TO TALK

But Does Like Work; That's the Way He Built His Fortune.

Having built up his fortune, Willie Greenburg, newsboy, is now putting a roof on it. It is an expensive and up-to-date roof, and it will cover one of the handsomest apartment houses in St. Louis—the new Knickerbocker, at Taylor and McPherson avenues.

To those who have known Willie since he made his humble start in the business life of St. Louis, it seems not so very long ago that he was a little dark-haired, black-eyed "kid," dodging wagons and hopping cars in the downtown district and advertising his wares with a shrill tremolo cry: "Paper here; paper."

And as time goes it wasn't long, Willie is only 32 years old now, yet, according to the real estate agency which is looking after his affairs, his investment in the Knickerbocker Apartments amounts to $112,000, including the ground fee, which has a value of $20,000.

Doesn't Talk About It Himself.
Willie doesn't talk about it himself. He merely shrugs his shoulders as though to say: "What is there so wonderful about a fellow working hard and saving his money?"

But Willie's big brother, Ben, who fought Willie's battles for him in the days when "hustling" papers was a continuous warfare in which only the fittest survived, is proud of "the little fellow's" financial success.

"O. Willie is the candy kid, all right," said Ben. "He's got the money and he deserves it. He always was a bear for work."

Willie and Ben, in partnership, own the newstand in the marble and onyx lobby of the Merchants-Laclede Bank building at Fourth and Olive street. They control the distribution in St. Louis of many magazines and out-of-town papers.

Willie was 12 years old when he took out his first batch of papers in 1893.

Pursues His Friends.
For nearly 10 years he and Ben were just "newsies." At the end of that time they had saved enough to open a little open air stand against the Merchants-Laclede building at Fourth and Olive streets.

This was in the heart of the financial district—the Wall Street of St. Louis—and Willie's devotion to his little business soon won recognition from bankers, brokers and men of affairs. William H. Lee, president of the Merchants-Laclede bank, became then and still is, a staunch friend of Willie the newsboy.

So are George J. Tanney, president of the St. Louis Transfer Co., James Campbell, David R. Francis, Mayor Wells and many St. Louisans of almost equal prominence and influence.

Willie learned many things while he was selling magazines and newspapers at the financial cross-roads. Bankers and bankers lingered at his stand to gossip.

Seeing in Willie a born child of thrift they gave him investment tips which sometimes yielded handsome returns. But Willie never lost his head. He wouldn't speculate and his occasional good fortune in the market did not dull the keen edge of his industry and application.

His business grew until three years ago the outdoor stand was too small. So when the Merchants-Laclede Building was remodeled, he and his big brother, Ben, started the managers of the building by offering to rent the greater part of the Fourth street lobby. Their bid was the best, and they had the money to bind the bargain, and for the first time in his life Willie Greenburg worked with a roof over his head.

His apartment house is near completion now, but he has taken on none of the duties of a capitalist. He is still plain Willie Greenburg, modest in discussing his private affairs, "saying nothing, but saving words," as his big brother, Ben, phrases it.

Bilious Troubles

Bile causes no end of trouble. Sick headaches, bilious attacks, jaundice, constipation and many distressing ailments arise from an excess of bile, or from obstruction of the bile duct. Inactivity, sedentary occupations and indiscretion in feeding and drinking are bile blunders that need to be guarded against. When the liver is disordered the best bile correctives are because they relieve the overworked liver, and gently stimulate it when it is sluggish. These pills control the flow of bile, restore its right consistency, and work for the immediate and lasting benefit of the stomach, bowels and blood. Whenever a furred tongue, dull, yellowish eyes, nausea, or headache indicate bilious conditions, use Beecham's Pills at once, to correct the bile and

BEECHAM'S PILLS
